Pound Strong After British Boost Taxes

Stiff New Imposts Rouse Opposition Against Wilson

LONDON (AP) — The pound sterling rose again on the London foreign exchange market today, reflecting favorable reaction among Europe's bankers to the Labor government's stiff new austerity program.

In early deals the pound jumped to $2.41, half a cent above Tuesday's close and a full cent above the official rate.

The government's new taxes and the freeze on wages, prices and dividends aroused expected resentment among union leaders and scathing comment from the Conservative opposition. But major British newspapers generally accepted the program as necessary to satisfy the world's bankers.

Conservative leader Edward Heath wheeled on the government bench in the House of Commons Tuesday night and declared: "I despise the men on that bench who have brought us to this humiliation."

To get the program through Commons, the government will have to surmount an oratorical barrage from Conservatives and union-sponsored Laborites. However, political sources forecast the Laborites would swallow their rage at voting time because of the program's necessity.

U.S., Egypt May Resume Relations

CAIRO (AP) — A qualified American source said today that the U.S. government is ready to resume diplomatic relations with Egypt any time the Egyptian government is ready.

The source, who refused to be identified, said American officials have submitted the text of a proposed joint statement to the Egyptian authorities and are awaiting a reply.

The source declined to disclose the contents of the statement.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser broke relations with the United States last June after charging that U.S. planes had attacked Arab forces during the Arab-Israeli war. Washington promptly and repeatedly denied the charge but Nasser did not retract it until recently.

An American source said Nasser's retraction cleared the way for resumption of diplomatic relations as far as Washington is concerned. The source said the Egyptian government also had agreed in principle to pay compensation for damage to American government property in Alexandria and Port Said during demonstrations last June.

8 More Servicemen Get Swedish Asylum

NEW YORK (AP) — Families of some of the eight American servicemen granted asylum in Sweden Tuesday have voiced reactions ranging from shock to qualified approval at the defections.

The Aliens Commission in Stockholm announced Tuesday that the eight have been given a sylum "on humanitarian grounds." One of the defectors however, has already turned himself in at Ft. Benning, Ga., the U.S. Army said.

An Army spokesman said Erwin Joseph Foster, 26, a former Alabama newsman, turned himself in Sunday night and was "trying to act like a soldier." They said Foster did not wish to talk with newsmen.

Mrs. Richard T. Burroughs, mother of Robert T. Burroughs, 20, said in Arlington, Va., that she and her husband were shocked when they first learned of their son's defection and went to see him in Sweden.

"Frankly, we went to try to persuade him to come back," she said. "We tried to explain to him what his life was going to be like, but we didn't gain much. He said 'no' he wasn't going to come back home."

She said they had no prior indication that such action was on the youth's mind. She said Robert's older brother completed his hitch in the military.

J. Edward Ashley, father of John Ashley, 21, of Alexandria, Va., described his son as "one of these lads that is very much against what is going on."

Ashley, a veteran of World War II and now a top civilian specialist in the Pentagon, said, "I respect his opinion because he's a man now, over 21. I wouldn't have done it that way, but then we're different people."

Young Ashley, faced with being drafted, enlisted in the Army last May. He disliked the service almost from the moment he began basic training and went AWOL last October to take part in the Pentagon peace demonstration.

In January, before leaving for Sweden, he told a Washington Post reporter: "That was the final thing that made me know I couldn't fight the war, after watching the government's brutality against its own people."

He said when he returned to his base he found orders to Vietnam. He took an overdose of sleeping pills at Ft. Benjamin Harrison in Indianapolis, Ind.

"When they asked me why I did it, I said, 'I'm sick of living, sick of the Army.' The psychiatrist said, 'That's a normal reaction,' and put me back on duty," he said in the interview.

The others who were granted asylum Tuesday and the addresses they gave are: Erwin J. Foster of Blackshear, Ga.; Richard Lee Propp of Chicago; Parker F. Smith of Glen Ridge, N.J., son of Henry H. Smith, Chevy Chase, Md.; Justin Olson of Redding, Calif., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Olson of Redding.

The Aliens Commission said it knew of 38 American military defectors. It said 28 have been permitted to stay in Sweden and it is investigating 10 other cases.

Ohio Municipal Seminar at Ft. Hayes Hotel in Columbus and invited others to attend with him.

Second Ward Councilman John Jenkins announced his Safety Committee would be meeting Monday with the police and fire chief, service director and mayor.

BOB Turner, in one of his final moves, said that the Finance Committee recommends that a $400 deposit from Multi-Channel, cable TV firm of Portsmouth, for a local franchise be returned. Turner said the committee felt a better

De Gaulle Hits Pound And Dollar

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle told his Cabinet today the present crisis of the British pound and the U.S. dollar proved that the existing monetary system is "inequitable and henceforth inapplicable."

Information Minister Georges Gorse, reporting this to newsmen after the regular weekly Cabinet meeting, quoted De Gaulle as adding: "In trying to impose it any longer would be to condemn the free world to grave economic, social and political trials."

The French president, long a partisan of a return to the gold standard, also was quoted as having urged "a monetary system based on gold which alone has the character of immutability, impartiality and universality."

"France," De Gaulle said, "is ready to take part in such a reform of the international monetary system and hopes to see the European Economic Community (Common Market) play the role which it should."

"In the meantime, she (France) reserves her freedom of action regarding any measures tending to delay" the reform, he concluded.

Ohio Woman Killed in Crash

EPHRATA, Pa. (AP) — An auto overturned after running out of control on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Tuesday, killing a young Ohio woman and slightly injuring her three companions.

State Police said Judith Getz, 20, Rocky River, was injured fatally when the car she was in ran onto the asphalt median strip, veered out of control and overturned twice nine miles west of the Lancaster-Reading interchange.

Jacqueline L. Johnston, 22, of Youngstown, Ohio, identified by police as the driver; Craig E. Boyd, 21, and Thomas D. Krell, 21, both of Lakewood, Ohio, were treated for minor injuries at Ephrata Community Hospital.

Police said they were en route from Ohio to New York.

East Liverpool Hikes Income Tax

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP) — City Council voted Tuesday night to increase the city income tax to one per cent from the present eight-tenths of one per cent. The vote was 4-3. The additional two-tenths of one per cent will bring in an additional $85,000 a year and eliminate the $68,000 deficit in the city's 1968 budget.

Saigon Threat Eases As Reds Fade Away

Ohio Assembly 'n Final Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The House Finance Committee cleared the way for a floor vote today at the windup session of the legislature on a bill to enlarge the Highway Patrol to facilitate statewide automobile inspections.

Fourteen members voted for the proposal to lift the 850-member ceiling on the number of patrolmen and set a floor of at least 880.

The action followed testimony by Patrol Supt. Robert M. Chiaramonte that the additional patrolmen were needed to head 27 inspection teams. Budget Director Howard Collier said funds were available to pay the estimated half-million-dollar cost for annual inspections.

Committee Chairman Ralph Fisher R - 24 Wayne said the ceiling on the number of patrolmen under the proposal would be determined by the amount of money appropriated by the legislature for Patrol operations.

Both houses opened today's session at 11 a. m., with four bills, including the Patrol bill, up for consideration.

The other pending matters were a proposed constitutional amendment to lift the ban on pay raises for public officials — including state senators — during their terms, a teacher negotiations bill and a measure setting tighter restrictions on the sale of fireworks.

The legislators were planning to wrap up today's work this afternoon, in contrast to the all-night meetings that ended an eight-month session last year and a seven-week session earlier this year.

The House Finance Committee faced the job of giving final form to the highway patrol measure. Patrol Supt. Robert M. Chiaramonte has served notice on the legislature that more patrolmen are needed to implement the random auto inspections called for in last year's highway safety bill.

Only a special session called by Gov. James A. Rhodes could bring the legislature back to the statehouse this year after adjournment of the final session.

Narcotics Raids Made in Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Federal and local authorities staged two narcotics raids in the area Tuesday and took 12 men and one woman into custody on a variety of charges ranging from possession to sale of narcotics. One raid was staged at a farmhouse north of Union which netted 16 pounds of uncut marijuana. Seven were arrested at the farmhouse.

An additional six arrests were made at a house near the University of Dayton.

Authorities said they were investigating reports that marijuana users sent mail orders to the farmhouse for marijuana.

Dirksen, Mansfield Clash Over Ethics Bill Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's top two leaders have split sharply over a proposal to make senators put a portion of their financial affairs on public record.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen called the proposal by the Senate ethics committee unworkable and offensive. But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield indicated he might back even stronger legislation.

The two leaders expressed their views Tuesday as the Senate neared initial voting on amendments to the proposed code of ethics.

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., of the bipartisan ethics committee said he expected voting to begin today.

Among those preparing amendments was Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., censured by the Senate last year for alleged financial misconduct in converting political funds to his personal use.

"I have a very great interest in this matter, as all of you know," Dodd told the Senate.

Sens. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., are pushing an amendment to require full public disclosure by senators of the sources of their income and other financial information. They said this would alert the public to any possible conflicts of interest.

Mansfield backed the ethics committee recommendations, which do not require full public disclosure but indicated he might vote for the Clark-Case amendment.

"I'll back at least the committee proposal," he said. Under the ethics committee proposal, senators and Senate employees earning more than $15,000 annually would file two annual financial statements, one public and one sealed.

The public statement would deal with contributions and such items as lecture and writing fees. The sealed information would detail income tax return legal fees, gifts, property holdings, liabilities and corporate and professional fees.

Truman Behind President Johnson

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman today gave his emphatic support to President Johnson and predicted he would easily win the Democratic nomination this fall.

Referring to the campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, Truman said the party is strong and will continue strong "unless some damned fool" tries to splinter the party.

Ground Contact Report Light Across Nation

SAIGON (AP) — Troops of the U.S. Americal Division reported they killed 111 North Vietnamese regulars in a battle today on the northern coast at a cost of three Americans wounded.

The U.S. Command said it had only sketchy details, but the North Vietnamese were overtaken 16 miles northwest of Chu Lai, on the coast 330 miles north of Saigon. They said the fighting ended at dusk.

Far to the south, about 13,000 hard-core Viet Cong have faded into jungle hideouts near the Cambodian border easing the threat of a second invasion of Saigon, U.S. officials reported.

The five Viet Cong regiments, bloodied in the Communist lunar new year offensive that turned Saigon into a battlefield, slipped into War Zones C and D to escape the biggest allied offensive of the war launched 10 days ago, the officials said.

A U.S. spokesman said the Viet Cong withdrawal explains the spotty contact which the force of 50,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops have made in Operation Quyet Thang—Resolve to win—now under way in five provinces north, west and south of Saigon.

Although the danger of another major infiltration invasion of Saigon has presumably lessened, it has not passed, U.S. officials said, because the enemy regiments are still 30 to 50 miles north and northwest of the city.

The allied sweep force reported only one ground action Tuesday. About 400 South Vietnamese rangers routed a band of guerrillas camped five miles south of the capital and said they killed 21 in a running, five-hour battle.

In the 10 days that Operation Quyet Thang has been under way, the American and Vietnamese troops have reported killing 903 of the enemy in spots.

Kennedy Unveils Housing Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, labeling President Johnson's housing program inadequate, proposes iron-clad guarantees giving slum-dwellers the chance to help build, manage and eventually own housing projects.

Appearing before the Senate housing subcommittee, the New York senator proposed amendments to the administration housing bill to provide that at least 75 per cent of new housing be built in urban poverty areas. Johnson has called for construction of six million new units within 10 years.

The allies say their casualties so far are 34 Americans and 46 South Vietnamese killed and 308 Americans and 139 South Vietnamese wounded.

In the Mekong Delta 80 miles southwest of Saigon, enemy gunners shot down a U.S. Army helicopter Tuesday morning but the crewmen were not wounded, the U.S. Command reported.

Viet Cong terrorists meanwhile renewed their attacks in Saigon and killed four civilians in Cholon, the city's Chinese section, in the last two nights. A policeman also was killed and a civilian wounded in an attack on a police station Monday night.

Along the northern frontier, North Vietnamese gunners fired 125 shells at the Khe Sanh combat base in the west and 46 rocket and artillery rounds at the U.S. Marine supply base at Dong Ha in the east. U.S. spokesmen said casualties and damage were light.

ALDEN D. BRAY

SAMUEL P. FOSTER

Alden D. Bray, manager of the Du Pont Company's "My-lar" polyester film plant here has been named manager of the company's plant in Florence, S. C.

Effective April 1, Samuel P. Foster, assistant plant manager, will become manager of the Circleville facility which employs about 1300 persons.

Bray began his Du Pont career in 1941 at the Clinton Plant. He entered the U. S. Navy in 1944 and after serving two years, returned to the Clinton plant where he held various supervisory positions.

He moved to the Richmond, Va., film plant in 1954 as an area supervisor and became manufacturing superintendent in 1957. He assisted in the design and construction of the new polyethylene film plant at the Richmond location and was named superintendent of the plant in 1959. Later that year he was advanced to assistant plant manager.

IN 1962 Bray was transferred to the Circleville plant as assistant plant manager and was promoted to plant manager the next year.

Bray was graduated from Iowa State University in 1940 with a BS degree in chemical engineering. He also studied law at the University of Iowa for one year.

He is a member of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, the Ohio Valley Improvement Assn.,

the Ohio Manufacturers' Assn., chairman of the Education Committee of the Circleville Chamber of Commerce, and a trustee of the Community Action Committee of Circleville. He is a director of the Second National Bank of Circleville and a former director of the Circleville Rotary Club.

He is also central region chairman of the Chemical Industry Council of Ohio and a member of the executive and policy committee of the Pickaway County Republican Party.

Bray is married and has three daughters.

Foster started his Du Pont career in 1947 as a chemical engineer at the company's Experimental Station, Du Pont's main fundamental research center, near Wilmington. After holding various supervisory positions, he was transferred to the Film Department Yerkes Research Laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., in 1960 as a research manager. In 1962 he was appointed technical superintendent at the Circleville plant and became assistant plant manager there in December, 1966.

HE WAS graduated from Yale University in 1945 with a BE degree in chemical engineering and received his Master of Science degree in chemical engineering from the University of Delaware in 1948.

Demos See Incurable Party Split over RFK Candidacy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic senators seeking re-election are privately expressing fears their chances are endangered by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's entry into the presidential contest.

Their reasoning? The New York senator's candidacy for the Democratic nomination—unlike that of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn.—sharpens the threat of a party split.

Almost to a man, Democratic senators seeking re-election made it clear at a luncheon caucus Tuesday they are not going to take any stand in the three-cornered contest among President Johnson, Kennedy and McCarthy for the presidential nomination.

A key party strategist said the consensus of the informal discussion was that Kennedy is heading for a collision with the President that could wreck chances for post-convention party unity.

Several of the senators cited the New York senator's refusal to commit himself at this point to support of Johnson if the President is renominated.

On the other hand, they said McCarthy's attacks on Johnson's Vietnam policies were thus far impersonal and unlikely to lead to an irreparable break after the convention nomination.

Their comments came, however, before McCarthy said Tuesday night he would back Kennedy over Johnson if he became convinced he couldn't win himself.

Shattered Bombs Said No Danger

WASHINGTON (AP) — A panel of American and Danish scientists has confirmed earlier conclusions that human, animal and fish life was not endangered by the shattering of four hydrogen bombs on a frozen bay off Thule, Greenland.

The group of 21 scientists completed Tuesday two days of conferences to review the action taken to minimize any dangers resulting from the Jan. 22 crash of an American B52 bomber carrying the hydrogen weapons. They said they would continue to watch the situation.

Operations are under way at the crash site to retrieve remnants of the bombs and plane, as well as to remove tons of contaminated snow.

RFK Strategy Is Disclosed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's strategists don't plan to challenge Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy for Massachusetts' first ballot votes at the Democratic National Convention because they're supremely confident of getting the 72 votes on the second ballot.

One delegate from Massachusetts will be Rep. Torbert H. Macdonald, who said, "If Bobby called on me to do something I would do it. He's practically a favorite son in Massachusetts."

Macdonald, who was John F. Kennedy's roommate at Harvard 30 years ago, said a written campaign in Massachusetts is mechanically difficult, particularly in Boston and other cities which use voting machines.

"If there was a movement underfoot, I would know about it," Macdonald said.

Another Massachusetts congressman was less impressed by the mechanical difficulties posed by a write-in.

"Although I haven't heard it raised publicly yet, something not to be ruled out is a Kennedy write-in campaign in Massachusetts which he obviously could win," he said.

But as a high party official in Boston put it, "Why should the Kennedys spend the money when Gene McCarthy will do their work for them?"

Housing Needed

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — The United States must build more housing in this generation than the total erected since the Pilgrims landed, says Robert C. Speaking at the University of Massachusetts, Wood said $2.4 billion is needed from Congress to begin a massive housing program for urban areas.

NATO Officers See Nothing Alarming in Soviet Buildup

By CARL HARTMAN

Associated Press Writer

BRUSSELS (AP) — High-ranking military officers of the North Atlantic Alliance see no need to do anything now about the Soviet naval buildup in the Mediterranean.

"Their strength is still far below the U.S. 6th Fleet," one officer said. "If it started to come close, we would have to build up too."

These officers consider the effect of the Soviet warships largely psychological, a way to boost the morale of the Arab countries which the Soviet Union backs against Israel.

They also point out that the comparatively untried Soviet fleet is also gaining operational experience in the special conditions of the Mediterranean—a long body of water, comparatively narrow at various points, with good sailing conditions all year round.

The allied officers are impressed with the feat of the Egyptians in sinking the Israeli destroyer Elath with a Soviet Styx missile. They note with concern that the Russians have delivered similar missiles to other Arab countries.

Another worry is that the Algerian government will allow the Soviet fleet to use the big modern naval base at Mers el Kebir, which France recently gave up.

The Soviets are already using Alexandria, in Egypt, and modern techniques of supplying ships at sea make naval bases less important than they once were. But Mers el Kebir could be valuable to the Soviet as a repair yard and leave center near the western entrance to the Mediterranean.

"Even the Soviets can't keep their men at sea indefinitely," one officer pointed out.

U.S. officials estimate that the Soviets now keep about 35 ships in the Mediterranean though at times there have been as many as 46. A year ago there were rarely more than a dozen.

The U.S. 6th Fleet has about 60 units, including two big aircraft carriers that the Soviets cannot match. It is under the command of Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, commander of U.S. forces in Europe and also the Supreme Allied Commander. His headquarters has been near the south Belgian village of Castau since President Charles De Gaulle expelled the NATO commands from France last year.

Elks Elect C. R. McKenzie Exalted Ruler

Chester McKenzie, 105 Seyfert Ave., was elected exalted ruler of the Circleville BPO Elks Lodge Tuesday.

McKenzie, manager of the Scioto Building and Loan, will be installed April 6, along with the other elected officers of the lodge.

Other posts filled during the election were Wendell Emerine, leading knight; John Moore, loyal knight; Ernest Enoch Jr., lecturing knight; Forrest Webster, secretary; Warren Baker, treasurer.

A roast beef dinner will precede the installation. Elks plan to hold a dance in conjunction with the annual event.

cause defeat for the government would mean its resignation, a general election and certain defeat for more than half the Labor members of Commons.

The budget tacked no additions onto taxes on ordinary income, corporation income or capital gains. But the betting tax and the tax on almost every consumer item except beer was used to curtail the demand for imported consumer goods which keeps Britain's foreign trade balance perennially in the red.

The average Briton earning the equivalent of $48-$60 a week will pay more for whisky, cigarettes, gasoline, candy, ice cream, appliances, luxury goods and other consumer items.

The only "soak the rich" provision came in a special one-year surtax on unearned income, applied to income over $7,500 a year from stocks and property. The rate goes progressively upward from 10 per cent at the bottom to 45 per cent on amounts over $19,200. Because the special impost comes on top of regular income and investment taxes, however, investment income in the higher brackets will actually be taxed at more than 100 per cent and these super-rich presumably will have to dip into capital this year to meet the bill.

9 Opposed to Vietnam War Seek Shelter in France

PARIS (AP) — Five self-described American deserters and four draft dodgers, who said they are working against the Vietnam war, were given renewable 15-day French residence permits today.

They told newsmen that along with the temporary residence cards, they were also given applications for work permits.

They went to the central police headquarters for the permits after holding a semi-clandestine news conference in a Paris apartment.

Four of the men told newsmen they had left their units in Germany and another deserted from Ft. Jackson, S.C. They called themselves "resisters," were escorted to the central police prefecture by two French attorneys, one of whom said he is a Protestant humanitarian and the other a member of the Communist party.

It was the largest group yet to have applied for permission to reside and work in France. They join what they said were many others in France—estimates vary from 40 to more than 100—who are avoiding their military obligations for what they call disagreement with American policy in Vietnam.

The deserters gave their names as: Clarence Montford Jr., of Joliet, Ill., who said he enlisted for a four-year term but left his unit in Germany because it was being sent to Vietnam. Montford was the only Negro in the group.

Dave Denmen of Eustis, Fla., who said he deserted his unit in Germany two months ago after striking a sergeant with his fist during an argument over the unit's orders to go to Vietnam via Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Philip Wagner, Felton, Calif., a former member of the Peace Corps, who participated in an antiwar committee at the University of Oregon, and deserted from Germany 10 months ago.

James Morrissey, Wantagh, N.Y., who deserted from Ft. Jackson, S.C. He hitchhiked to New York and took a plane to France last month, after he had an argument with his commanding officer over the Vietnam war.

Peter Andrew Thomason of Miami, Fla., who deserted his U.S. Army is waging a war against humanity.

The "resisters" are Joseph H. Rowe, Austin, Tex.; Joel Parker, New York City; Larry Cox, Avon Lake, Ohio, and Chris Warden of Pittsburgh.

Kennedy Unveils Housing Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, labeling President Johnson's housing program inadequate, proposes iron-clad guarantees giving slum-dwellers the chance to help build, manage and eventually own housing projects.

Appearing before the Senate housing subcommittee, the New York senator proposed amendments to the administration housing bill to provide that at least 75 per cent of new housing be built in urban poverty areas. Johnson has called for construction of six million new units within 10 years.

Kennedy's testimony was prepared for today's hearing. Kennedy, seeking the Democratic presidential nomination, also proposed that homebuilders be required to hire at least 25 per cent of their construction crews from among residents of areas where new housing is being built.

Other Kennedy amendments would provide that: —Poverty-area residents be given a voice in the rebuilding of their communities. —Adequate resettlement provisions be established for people displaced by new construction. —Tenant organizations be formed and encouraged to take a role in managing the new housing projects as well as work toward eventual ownership of them.

Rentals be reduced through a combined program of low-interest rates, 30-year mortgages, tax abatement and subsidized land costs.

Kennedy said the administration rejected his earlier proposal for tax incentives aimed at encouraging business to build in the slums. He offered a detailed alternative to achieve the same goals without the tax incentives.

Service Director Robert Adkins noted that equipment had been ordered for the Main St. crosswalks and that installation could be expected for the W. Main St. crosswalk within three weeks.

City Patrolman Wesley Barton will present his program on narcotics on a Columbus TV show April 16, according to Police Chief Robert Temple.

The city's new fire truck was on display in front of city hall last night prior to council meeting. Fire Chief Wolfe had the truck on display for a viewing by city officials.

Erv Leist, public utilities manager, told the solons that a meeting would be held to discuss the tapping of city sewer lines by Elsen Trailer Court. Leist also noted that there's a possibility annexation may be sought for the 74-acre tract.

Mayor Richard Gerhardt announced a civil service test has been scheduled for late April to fill vacancies and provide an availability list for the police and fire departments. Gerhardt also said there have been five applications made for city patrolman.

At the close of the session, Turner expressed his appreciation to fellow councilmen for their cooperation during his stint as third ward councilman. Other solons also publicly acknowledged Turner's efforts. His successor is expected to be named at an April meeting.

BRUSSELS (AP) — High-ranking military officers of the North Atlantic Alliance see no need to do anything now about the Soviet naval buildup in the Mediterranean.

"Their strength is still far below the U.S. 6th Fleet," one officer said. "If it started to come close, we would have to build up too."

These officers consider the effect of the Soviet warships

largely psychological, a way to boost the morale of the Arab countries which the Soviet Union backs against Israel.

They also point out that the comparatively untried Soviet fleet is also gaining operational experience in the special conditions of the Mediterranean—a long body of water, comparatively narrow at various points, with good sailing conditions all year round.

The allied officers are impressed with the feat of the Egyptians in sinking the Israeli destroyer Elath with a Soviet Styx missile. They note with concern that the Russians have delivered similar missiles to other Arab countries.

Another worry is that the Algerian government will allow the Soviet fleet to use the big modern naval base at Mers el Kebir, which France recently gave up.

The Soviets are already using Alexandria, in Egypt, and modern techniques of supplying ships at sea make naval bases less important than they once were. But Mers el Kebir could be valuable to the Soviet as a repair yard and leave center near the western entrance to the Mediterranean.

"Even the Soviets can't keep their men at sea indefinitely," one officer pointed out.

U.S. officials estimate that the Soviets now keep about 35 ships in the Mediterranean though at times there have been as many as 46. A year ago there were rarely more than a dozen.

The U.S. 6th Fleet has about 60 units, including two big aircraft carriers that the Soviets cannot match. It is under the command of Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, commander of U.S. forces in Europe and also the Supreme Allied Commander. His headquarters has been near the south Belgian village of Casteau since President Charles De Gaulle expelled the NATO commands from France last year.

Elks Elect C. R. McKenzie Exalted Ruler

Chester McKenzie, 105 Seyfert Ave., was elected exalted ruler of the Circleville BPO Elks Lodge Tuesday.

McKenzie, manager of the Scioto Building and Loan, will be installed April 6, along with the other elected officers of the lodge.

Other posts filled during the election were Wendell Emerine, leading knight; John Moore, loyal knight; Ernest Enoch Jr., lecturing knight; Forrest Webster, secretary; Warren Baker, treasurer.

A roast beef dinner will precede the installation. Elks plan to hold a dance in conjunction with the annual event.

The budget tackled no additions onto taxes on ordinary income, corporation income or capital gains. But the betting tax and the tax on almost every consumer item except beer was upped to curtail the demand for imported consumer goods which keeps Britain's foreign trade balance perennially in the red.

The average Briton earning the equivalent of $48-$60 a week will pay more for whisky, cigarettes, gasoline, candy, ice cream, appliances, luxury goods and other consumer items.

The only "soak the rich" provision came in a special one-year surtax on unearned income, applied to income over $7,500 a year from stocks and property. The rate goes progressively upward from 10 per cent at the bottom to 45 per cent on amounts over $19,200. Because the special impost comes on top of regular income and investment taxes, however, investment income in the higher brackets will actually be taxed at more than 100 per cent and these super-rich presumably will have to dip into capital this year to meet the bill.

9 Opposed to Vietnam War Seek Shelter in France

PARIS (AP) — Five self-described American deserters and four draft dodgers, who said they are working against the Vietnam war, were given renewable 15-day French residence permits today.

They told newsmen that along with the temporary residence cards, they were also given applications for work permits.

They went to the central police headquarters for the permits after holding a semi-clandestine news conference in a Paris apartment.

Four of the men told newsmen they had left their units in Germany and another deserted from Ft. Jackson, S.C. They and the draft dodgers, who call themselves "resisters," were escorted to the central police prefecture by two French attorneys, one of whom said he is a Protestant humanitarian and the other a member of the Communist party.

It was the largest group yet to have applied for permission to reside and work in France. They join what they said were many others in France—estimates vary from 40 to more than 100—who are avoiding their military obligations for what they call disagreement with American policy in Vietnam.

The deserters gave their names as:

Clarence Montford Jr., of Joliet, Ill., who said he enlisted for a four-year term but left his unit in Germany because it was being sent to Vietnam. Montford was the only Negro in the group.

Dave Denmen of Eustis, Fla., who said he deserted his unit in Germany two months ago after striking a sergeant with his fist during an argument over the unit's orders to go to Vietnam via Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Philip Wagner, Felton, Calif.,

a former member of the Peace Corps, who participated in an antiwar committee at the University of Oregon, and deserted from Germany 10 months ago.

James Morrissey, Wantagh, N.Y., who deserted from Ft. Jackson, S.C. He hitchhiked to New York and took a plane to France last month, after he had an argument with his commanding officer over the Vietnam war.

Peter Andrew Thomason of Miami, Fla., who deserted his U.S. Army is waging a war against humanity.

The "resisters" are Joseph H. Rowe, Austin, Tex.; Joel Parker, New York City; Larry Cox, Avon Lake, Ohio, and Chris Warden of Pittsburgh.

Westfall Cagers To Be Honored

The Westfall High School basketball banquet, honoring members of the varsity, reserve and freshmen teams and cheerleading squads, will be held 6:30 p. m. Thursday at the School.

Vince Chickarella, basketball coach at Linden McKinley and voted the Class AA coach of the year, will be the speaker.

The banquet is sponsored by the Westfall Booster Club.

Building Worker Falls to Death

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Otis Maggard, 57, a construction worker, fell to his death Tuesday from a building under construction on the Hamilton campus of Miami University.

Police said Maggard fell from the third to the second floor of the building after he apparently stepped backward into an opening.

NEW YORK (AP) — Remittes again, sir. They're threatening another slowdown unless we get the water cooler working again by 2 p.m.

"I don't care if he is in a big commotion. Tell him I'm from the Internal Revenue Service, and there are a few discrepancies we'd like to have him explain in his reports over the last five years."

"As per your request, our consulting firm has made a thorough study of the success achieved by your chief competitor. The only reason we can find for it is that your competitor seems to have better leadership at the top."

"After a two-martini luncheon, J.P. usually only bawls out his secretary. But watch out for him if he's had three martinis—then he yelps at everybody on the whole floor."

"Unless it's an absolute emergency, I wouldn't go in and see him now. He's in a terrible temper. The new edition of America's Key Business Executives just came out and they misspelled his name."

"You know how he's always groaning about how he has to do everything about the place, Myrtle? Well, guess what I caught him doing when I walked into his private office yesterday morning. Sailing paper airplanes out the window."

"J.P., wake up! Wake up, J.P. The conference is over, it's the union grievance committee, sir, and this time they've really got their dander up. They say the office lunchroom used to serve four meatballs in the meatball and spaghetti dish, and now they're down to three—and without giving formal notice."

"I think J.P. is a real inspiration. If a guy with his brains can climb up the executive ladder, there's hope for all of us."

"...and so, after only four weeks here, I'd like to give a week's notice that I'm quitting as office boy, sir. The pay is okay, but I feel I'd rather go to work for a firm that has a better pension program."

"Speaking frankly as your doctor, J.P., I think you're in more danger of getting ulcers from boredom than from overwork. Why don't you try spending more time at the office? Those long business trips to Miami and Hawaii are beginning to get you down."

"You'd better call the supply room and have them order another gallon or two of red ink. Millicent. The way things are going we'll need them by the end of the year."

In Defense of Mexico

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Presidential aspirant Richard Nixon did superlatively well in New Hampshire, winning eighty per cent of the Republican primary vote, and getting more of the total vote than went to all of the other candidates of both parties combined. Since the Rockefeller forces, spearheaded by former New Hampshire Governor Hugh Gregg, spent some $20,000 on a last-minute mailing of 220,000 pieces of literature giving detailed professional advice about conducting a write-in it can hardly be said that Nixon had no opposition. Gregg had set a goal of 15,000 write-in votes for Rockefeller out of an expected Republican total of some 80,000. When the dust had cleared, the Rockefeller vote was around 12,000 out of a big Republican turnout that gave Nixon 80,000-plus all to himself.

Nixon's good showing, however, does not guarantee clear sailing to the Miami Beach Republican nomination. He could do well in Wisconsin, Nebraska, and elsewhere, and still be dealt a mortal blow in the Oregon primary of May 23, where he may have to contest the field not only against Rockefeller but also against a fighting Governor Ronald Reagan of California. Even if he and Reagan together should get a bigger Oregon vote than Rockefeller, a triumph for the Rockefellerites in the last meaningful primary before the convention could be pumped up into a Nixon disaster in the states that are supporting favorite sons.

Much can hinge in these states on a few dedicated conservative-to-moderate delegates at the convention. In Ohio, for example, the forced command by Governor Jim Rhodes, who is at least tacitly for Rockefeller at this point, have managed to keep U. S. Representative John Ashbrook of the Seventeenth Congressional District off the list of convention delegates. Ashbrook is for Nixon, with Ronald Reagan as his second choice.

Not wishing to force his Seventeenth District friends to choose openly between Governor Rhodes and himself, Ashbrook withdrew his name from consideration at a delegate-picking session held by Wayne

County chairman, Marion Graven. The decision to drop Ashbrook was, as Graven put it, a vote against a proposal "to let delegates to the convention be guided by their conscience."

Said Graven: "Conscience is for church people, not for politicians."

As John Ashbrook sees it, however, the "church people" deserve their inings when it comes to selecting convention delegates. Hence his announcement that he intends to fight it out with the Rhodes pro-Rockefeller forces at a primary on May 7. If he can carry a second Seventeenth District delegate candidate with him to victory, along with two alternates, it would mean that four members of the Ohio delegation would show up at Miami Beach without any actual commitment to anyone beyond Rhodes on early ballots. What has encouraged Ashbrook is the fact that thirteen unopposed Republican delegates from elsewhere in Ohio have called him on the telephone to wish him well and to say that they will be with him if he can take the leadership of the "unbossed" forces.

What makes John Ashbrook formidable is his pulling power in his own area. His district was gerrymandered in 1966 with the obviously vindictive purpose of getting rid of him. The gerrymandering forces took his two best counties — Delaware and Richmond — away from him. In return he was presented with Muskingum and Guernsey counties, which could have cost him the election. But he still managed to win anyway.

Ashbrook is very much afraid that Ohio, Illinois, and Indiana will go to Rockefeller at the Miami Beach convention, not because the "people" prefer Rocky to Nixon, but because of "slippage" at the top when the leaders begin trading. If a few people such as himself can provide Nixon or Reagan with rallying strength in their local delegation caucuses, there will be a check on "blitz" bandwagon psychology. Thus the Seventeenth District in Ohio might become pivotal if Ashbrook can make it and thereby keep Governor Rhodes from making a quick deal for Rockefeller.

If Nixon can win or make it close in Oregon, of course, Governor Rhodes will hardly be able to deliver Ohio to Rockefeller even if he should wish to do so. But, since Oregon is "Rockefeller country" the chances are good that Nixon's future will rest in the hands of a few dedicated people such as John Ashbrook.

Vivien Leigh

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Town and Gown Dining Hall of the University of Southern California was decorated with three huge photographs of Vivien Leigh—two as the fiery Scarlett O'Hara and one from her final film, "Ship of Fools." Her spirit pervaded the evening.

The Friends of the Libraries, which in previous years had saluted the achievements of Aldous Huxley, Somerset Maugham and Cole Porter, this year chose to honor an actress. The death of Miss Leigh last July and the recent re-release of her most notable film, "Gone With the Wind," made it a poignant occasion.

Chester Erskine, playwright-producer who was personal friend of the actress, moderated the program and set the tone by describing her as "a lovely little pink cloud floating over the lives of all her friends."

Quite naturally, there was a decidedly British flavor to the reminiscences. Gladys Cooper told of playing in "That Hamilton Woman" with Miss Leigh and her new husband Laurence Olivier. Brian Aherne described her gaiety as she received friends for cocktails four days before her death. Greer Garson recalled how she and Vivien made their London stage debuts at almost the same time.

Elsa Lanchester told of Miss Leigh's early success in a film with Charles Laughton. William Wyler was impressed enough to offer the second female lead in "Wuthering Heights," telling her, "You're unknown in the United States and for your first part in America you can't expect much more."

Her first part in America, of course, was "Gone With the Wind," and George Cukor described meeting her during the pre-production firing of Atlanta. Her agent, Myron Selznick, told his brother David and Cukor: "Here's your Scarlett O'Hara."

Joseph Cotton read an excerpt from Radie Harris's forthcoming biography of the actress, and Wilfred Hyde-White read from one of two British biographies, Judith Anderson, Walter Matthau, Rod Steiger and Claire Bloom offered other readings.

Stanley Kramer, who directed Miss Leigh's last film, admitted that it was not always an easy experience. One day she came on the "Ship of Fools" set and announced that the scene would play better if the set were rearranged. Kramer saw some logic in her argument, and although it meant a three-hour delay in shooting, he agreed to the change.

Later she came up behind him and said in a soft voice: "I can see that you are getting disagreeable. But if you think this kind of modified bitchery is difficult, wait until you work with Katie Hepburn." Kramer, who recently did just that, added ruefully, "She was right."

The climax of the evening came with the screening of the original tests she made for "Gone With the Wind." Even with scratchy sound, poor lighting and muddy color, it was plain to see why she was picked to play Scarlett O'Hara.

Today is Wednesday, March 20, the 80th day of 1968. There are 286 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1942, Gen. Douglas MacArthur said, "I shall return." He had fled from the Philippines to Australia in the early days of the Pacific war.

On this date: In 1602, the Dutch East India Co. was formed.

One year ago — Richard M. Nixon, as a tourist, returned to the Moscow park where he had held his famed "Kitchen debate" with Nikita Khrushchev.

Try and Stop Me

A DENVER BANKER was telling friends that his wife suddenly had discovered the joys of golfing in her use? "If she did," mourned the banker, "do you think my shirt would look like this?"

When Harold Ross was editing the New Yorker Magazine, his chief tormentor was one of his most brilliant aides—Jim Thurber. Ross, easily riled, was particularly bothered by loud noises in the office and Thurber frequently added to the din by rolling metal waste baskets up and down the hall.

One day he charged into Ross' inner sanctum to complain, "One of your dastardly henchmen has stolen my coat." "That's your problem," snarled Ross. "Get out of my private office and stop interrupting me." A few moments later Thurber burst in again, this time stripped to the waist, to report, "I think he stole my shirt, too."

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Does the Hippocratic oath demand that a doctor stop at an accident to treat an injured person?

When Hippocrates, the Father of Medicine, wrote the Hippocratic Oath about 400 B. C. man was not destroying his fellow man with lethal weapons like automobiles. The mixture of gasoline and alcohol had not yet invaded their civilized society. Yet accidents, I am certain, occurred and demanded the skillful attention of all physicians then as now.

The Hippocratic Oath must not be confused with one's own personal morality. Laymen have always run to help those who are in need. Physicians have always run to those who are in distress. Yet I am sure there have been laymen and physicians who have not responded to the urgent needs of their fellow men.

This is an individual response related to a greater oath, the Oath of Humanity.

I am afraid that I must acknowledge that some physicians have refused to become involved in accidents because of a sad experience they may have had. It is a most unhappy occurrence when a doctor, motivated finds himself in a situation of being sued by the very people he had tried to help.

One such experience and the doctor may feel that he has too much at stake and that his own security may be threatened by those to whom he has shown kindness.

There is now a law in many states, called the Good Samaritan Law, which protects a physician and a layman from the injustice that can be done to him by legal prosecution as a "payment" for his kindness.

It is difficult to believe that there are no more exact protective laws that will permit the doctor to follow his first instinct, to give succor to those in need.

Strangely, the victim himself is not given adequate protection because of this obvious injustice. The victim might be the recipient of help given freely and with wisdom if the giver were not threatened by the outdated concept of automatic involvement.

Why do some people faint with the slightest emotional upset? Fainting is caused by a temporary interference with the blood and oxygen that is normally carried to the brain from the heart.

The causes for this are many. Weakness after an infection or an operation, long periods of invalidism in bed, a sudden fall of blood pressure or a rapid change in position may all reduce the blood supply to the brain and cause fainting.

Emotional responses do exactly this in a rather strange way. A frightening telegram or the sight of blood may cause a sudden reflex action to take place, and the blood that normally circulates freely through the body momentarily accumulates in the large blood vessels of the abdomen. The brain in this interval is deprived of its oxygen and blood supply and fainting occurs.

Some people respond to pain that is minimal while others are hardly touched by severe pain. Similarly the emotions can call forth a response in some people that is far more severe than in others.

If one lives with "a chronic fainter" here are a few things he can do:

Place the victim on his back keeping the head lower than the rest of the body. If he is sitting, lower the head between his feet keeping pressure on it and asking him if he can lift his head against your pressure.

Loosen tight clothing and restricting collars and waistbands. If spirits of ammonia are available a whiff will help to revive him. Wipe the face with a cool cloth.

Under no circumstances pour whiskey down their throat. Do too little rather than too much. Encourage the victim and relieve him of his fears.

By LEWIS GULICK (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the surge in Vietnam fighting, one school of thought in Washington still sees the war as likely to end in a negotiated settlement.

According to this thinking, the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong will find that whatever their other successes they cannot push the U.S. armed forces out of South Vietnam by military attacks—and thus the enemy will try to oust the Americans via the political route.

Washington has long avowed its desire to go to the conference table in the name of peace. Not emphasized, but nonetheless real, is a fear in some U.S. quarters of the tremendous cost in American men and money should the war go on several more years.

Thus both sides are pictured as headed sooner or later for a formal peacemaking—as distinguished from the other school of Washington opinion which figures the fighting will fade away with gradual triumph over the insurgents.

Just when real peace talks may come seems to depend on the moment when each side thinks it can gain more from a political deal than from more use of force.

The United States is reported-to have been ready with fairly specific settlement terms in December 1966—only to find Hanoi was not interested enough in talks then to get into serious discussions.

On other occasions North Vietnamese feelers have been turned down by U.S. strategists on grounds that Hanoi's approaches were not sincere.

The enemy is expected to avoid serious discussions at least until after they see what happens in the U.S. presidential election.

If and when the diplomatic sparring leads them to the conference table, the antagonists are likely to run into political problems rivaling in sharpness their clashes on the battlefield.

The U.S. leadership may well face the politically embarrassing task of preparing the American people for acceptance of a solution short of the popular notion of victory—that is, of keeping Communists out of South Vietnam—since the Communists will probably insist on a governmental role in the South.

Also requiring persuasion would be the Thieu-Ky government, which opposes coalition with the Viet Cong and wants to fight on until the Saigon regime's control is solidified over the whole country.

The Viet Cong would probably have to accept a solution providing less than their earlier demands for the settlement "in accordance with the program" of the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong.

They also are likely to face U.S. insistence on a system of safeguarding the settlement that is stronger than the loose guarantees contained in the 1954 Geneva Agreements for Indochina's peace and neutrality.

Both sides would have to decide who is to sit in on a peace conference. Some of the original Geneva powers, such as France and Red China, have not been directly involved in the current hostilities.

Other difficulties would arise with efforts for a cease-fire. With each side deeply suspicious of the other, how could a cease-fire in the widely-scattered guerrilla war be arranged and enforced to everyone's satisfaction?

The current guessing in Washington is that both sides would probably prefer a fight-and-talk situation until a settlement is worked out.

NEW YORK (AP) — In the next few months the United States will be forced to steer a cautious course between political temptations and economic realities.

In an election year it harms the incumbent none to pursue expansive economic policies—to produce jobs, quantities of material goods and fat paychecks. In other words, to produce a feeling of well being.

No matter how great the temptation, that course cannot now be pursued by President Johnson. Because of the great pressure on the dollar, as dramatized by the weekend crisis meeting, a less inflationary course must be followed.

In all probability this means higher interest rates, a slowdown once again in much needed housing starts, less government spending than was anticipated, and perhaps—though still not certain—higher taxes.

This is just one example of how the dollar crisis has reduced the United States' freedom of action. To point to the Vietnam war is another example, for the high cost of that war is now likely to be a deterrent to escalation.

Almost all important fiscal decisions now must be reconsidered in light of the crisis. In other words, the crisis continues, and soooooo long as it does the nation's courses of action are circumscribed in many areas.

Further evidence of the reduced freedom of Americans is the threatened tax on travel abroad, and the limitations that now exist on American industry's ability to invest in foreign economies.

In fact, inherent in the statement by central bank governors who met at Washington was the understanding that the United States must attempt to slow its economy while those of other nations are spurred.

This should have the effect, if accomplished, of encouraging

European economies into an expansive mood that would increase their demand for American products and services. This would cause an inflow of dollars to the United States at the same time the United States was stemming the outflow.

But here are reasons to believe his course may not be too successful. The United States cannot order other nations to do business with it. The needed expansion of world trade by European nations, partly to make a larger market for American goods, is a hope rather than a probability.

In fact, world trade already has been slowed by the threats to monetary order. The U.S. dollar is not as welcome, as acceptable, as it once was. And the convertibility of one currency to another is more suspect than a year ago.

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that an office boss gets tired of hearing:

"Listen, Nero, you may be able to throw your weight around at the office but, remember, you're at home now."

"The union grievance committee insists on seeing you personally on this complaint, chief. This time it's about the low quality of paper towels we use in the washrooms."

"But the lip, Mabel. Here comes Mrs. Big himself—and you know he's got ears like a fox."

"I went around taking up a collection to buy the boss a surprise birthday present. So far I've got five paper clips, a broken nailfile, 12 pencil stubs, a 1963 plastic wallet calendar, and four pennies. Maybe we'd just better drop the whole idea."

"The trouble with this place is—there's too many chiefs and too few Indians."

"The last time I got a merit raise from him was after he chased me around the stockroom and kissed me at an office Christmas party. But that was 20 years ago."

"I wish a nice sunny day would come along soon. It's always so much calmer around here when old J.P. sneaks an afternoon off to play golf."

"It's the union grievance committee again, sir. They're threatening another slowdown unless we get the water cooler working again by 2 p.m."

"I don't care if he is in a big conference. Tell him I'm from the Internal Revenue Service, and there are a few discrepancies we'd like to have him explain in his reports over the last five years."

"As per your request, our consulting firm has made a thorough study of the success achieved by your chief competitor. The only reason we can find for it is that your competitor seems to have better leadership at the top."

"After a two-martini lunch, J.P. usually only bawls out his secretary. But watch out for him if he's had three martinis—then he yelps at everybody on the whole floor."

"Unless it's an absolute emergency, I wouldn't go in and see him now. He's in a terrible temper. The new edition of America's Key Business Executives just came out and they misspelled his name."

"You know how he's always groaning about how he has to do everything about the place, Myrtle? Well, guess what I caught him doing when I walked into his private office yesterday morning. Sailing paper airplanes out the window."

"J.P., wake up! Wake up, J.P. The conference is over. It's the union grievance committee, sir, and this time they've really got their dander up. They say the office lunchroom used to serve four meatballs in the meatball and spaghetti dish, and now they're down to three—and without giving formal notice."

"I think J.P. is a real inspiration. If a guy with his brains can climb up the executive ladder, there's hope for all of us."

"...and so, after only four weeks here, I'd like to give a week's notice that I'm quitting as office boy, sir. The pay is okay, but I feel I'd rather go to work for a firm that has a better pension program."

"Speaking frankly as your doctor, J.P., I think you're in more danger of getting ulcers from boredom than from overwork. Why don't you try spending more time at the office? Those long business trips to Miami and Hawaii are beginning to get you down."

"You'd better call the supply room and have them order another gallon or two of red ink, Millicent. The way things are going we'll need them by the end of the year."

"It's the union grievance committee, sir. This time they're demanding that—"

A DENVER BANKER was telling friends that his wife suddenly had discovered the joys of golfing in her middle age. One joshed, "Does she know yet what irons to use?" "If she did," mourned the banker, "do you think my shirt would look like this?"

When Harold Ross was editing the New Yorker Magazine, his chief tormentor was one of his most brilliant aides—Jim Thurber. Ross, easily riled, was particularly bothered by loud noises in the office and Thurber frequently added to the din by rolling metal waste baskets up and down the hall.

One day he charged into Ross' inner sanctum to complain, "One of your dastardly henchmen has stolen my coat." "That's your problem," snarled Ross. "Get out of my private office and stop interrupting me." A few moments later Thurber burst in again, this time stripped to the waist, to report, "I think he stole my shirt, too."

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Does the Hippocratic oath demand that a doctor stop at an accident to treat an injured person?

When Hippocrates, the Father of Medicine, wrote the Hippocratic Oath about 400 B. C. man was not destroying his fellow man with lethal weapons like automobiles. The mixture of gasoline and alcohol had not yet invaded their civilized society. Yet accidents, I am certain, occurred and demanded the skillful attention of all physicians then as now.

The Hippocratic Oath must that of Ohio, Illinois, and Indiana be always run to help those who are in need. Physicians have always run to those who are in distress. Yet I am sure there have been laymen and physicians who have not responded to the urgent needs of their fellow men.

This is an individual response related to a greater oath, the Oath of Humanity.

I am afraid that I must acknowledge that some physicians have refused to become involved in accidents because of a sad experience they may have had. It is a most unhappy occurrence when a doctor, motivated by a sense of duty, finds himself in a situation of being sued by the very people he had tried to help.

One such experience and the doctor may feel that he has too much at stake and that his own security may be threatened by those to whom he has shown kindness.

There is now a law in many states, called the Good Samaritan Law, which protects a physician and a layman from the injustice that can be done to him by legal prosecution as a "payment" for his kindness.

It is difficult to believe that there are no more exact protective laws that will permit the doctor to follow his first instinct, to give succor to those in need.

Strangely, the victim himself is not given adequate protection because of this obvious injustice. The victim might be the recipient of help given freely and with wisdom if the giver were not threatened by the outdated concept of automatic involvement.

Why do some people faint with the slightest emotional upset?

Fainting is caused by a temporary interference with the blood and oxygen that is normally carried to the brain from the heart.

The causes for this are many. Weakness after an infection or an operation, long periods of invalidism in bed, a sudden fall of blood pressure or a rapid change in position may all reduce the blood supply to the brain and cause fainting.

Emotional responses do exactly this in a rather strange way. A frightening telegram or the sight of blood may cause a sudden reflex action to take place, and the blood that normally circulates freely through the body momentarily accumulates in the large blood vessels of the abdomen. The brain in this interval is deprived of its oxygen and blood supply and fainting occurs.

Some people respond to pain that is minimal while others are hardly touched by severe pain. Similarly the emotions can elicit a response in some people that is far more severe than in others.

If one lives with "a chronic fainter" here are a few things he can do:

Place the victim on his back keeping the head lower than the rest of the body. If he is sitting, lower the head between his feet keeping pressure on it and asking him if he can to lift his head against your pressure.

Loosen tight clothing and restricting collars and waistbands. If spirits of ammonia are available a whiff will help to revive him. Wipe the face with a cool cloth.

Under no circumstances pour whiskey down their throat. Do too little rather than too much. Encourage the victim and relieve him of his fears.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the surge in Vietnam fighting, one school of thought in Washington still sees the war as likely to end in a negotiated settlement.

According to this thinking, the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong will find that whatever their other successes they cannot push the U.S. armed forces out of South Vietnam by military attacks—and thus the enemy will try to oust the Americans via the political route.

Washington has long avowed its desire to go to the conference table in the name of peace. Not emphasized, but nonetheless real, is a fear in some U.S. quarters of the tremendous cost in American men and money should the war go on several more years.

In Defense of Mexico

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Presidential aspirant Richard Nixon did superlatively well in New Hampshire, winning eighty per cent of the Republican primary vote, and getting more of the total vote than went to all of the other candidates of both parties combined. Since the Rockefeller forces, spearheaded by former New Hampshire Governor Hugh Gregg, spent some $20,000 on a last-minute mailing of 220,000 pieces of literature giving detailed professional advice about conducting a write-in it can hardly be said that Nixon had no opposition. Gregg had set a goal of 15,000 write-in votes for Rockefeller out of an expected Republican total of some 80,000. When the dust had cleared, the Rockefeller vote was around 12,000 out of a big Republican turn-out that gave Nixon 80,000-plus all to himself.

Nixon's good showing, however, does not guarantee clear sailing to the Miami Beach Republican nomination. He could do well in Wisconsin, Nebraska, and elsewhere, and still be dealt a mortal blow in the Oregon primary of May 23, where he may have to contest the field not only against Rockefeller but also against a fighting Governor Ronald Reagan of California. Even if he and Reagan together should get a bigger Oregon vote than Rocky, a triumph for the Rockefellerites in the last meaningful primary before the convention could be pumped up into a Nixon disaster in the states that are supporting favorite sons.

Much can hinge in these states on a few dedicated conservative-to-moderate delegates at the convention. In Ohio, for example, the forced command by Governor Jim Rhodes, who is at least tacitly for Rockefeller at this point, have managed to keep U. S. Representative John Ashbrook of the Seventeenth Congressional District off the list of convention delegates. Ashbrook is for Nixon, with Ronald Reagan as his second choice.

Not wishing to force his Seventeenth District friends to choose openly between Governor Rhodes and himself, Ashbrook withdrew his name from consideration at a delegate-picking session held by Wayne

County chairman, Marion Graven. The decision to drop Ashbrook was, as Graven put it, a vote against a proposal "to let delegates to the convention be guided by their conscience." Said Graven: "Conscience is for church people, not for politicians."

As John Ashbrook sees it, however, the "church people" deserve their inings when it comes to selecting convention delegates. Hence his announcement that he intends to fight it out with the Rhodes pro-Rockefeller forces at a primary on May 7. If he can carry a second Seventeenth District delegate candidate with him to victory, along with two alternates, it would mean that four members of the Ohio delegation would show up at Miami Beach without any actual commitment to anyone beyond Rhodes on early ballots. What has encouraged Ashbrook is the fact that thirteen unopposed Republican delegates from elsewhere in Ohio have called him on the telephone to wish him well and to say that they will be with him if he can take the leadership of the "unblessed" forces.

What makes John Ashbrook formidable is his pulling power in his own area. His district was gerrymandered in 1966 with the obviously vindictive purpose of getting rid of him. The gerrymandering forces took his two best counties—Delaware and Richmond—away from him. In return he was presented with Muskingum and Guernsey counties, which could have cost him the election. But he still managed to win anyway.

Ashbrook is very much afraid that Ohio, Illinois, and Indiana will go to Rockefeller at the Miami Beach convention, not because the "people" prefer Rocky to Nixon, but because of "slippage" at the top when the leaders begin trading. If a few people such as himself can provide Nixon or Reagan with rallying strength in their local delegation caucuses, there will be a check on "blitz" bandwagon psychology. Thus the Seventeenth District in Ohio might become pivotal if Ashbrook can make it and thereby keep Governor Rhodes from making a quick deal for Rockefeller.

If Nixon can win or make it close in Oregon, of course, Governor Rhodes will hardly be able to deliver Ohio to Rockefeller even if he should wish to do so. But, since Oregon is "Rockefeller country," the chances are good that Nixon's future will rest in the hands of a few dedicated people such as John Ashbrook.

Vivien Leigh

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Town and Gown Dining Hall of the University of Southern California was decorated with three huge photographs of Vivien Leigh—two as the fiery Scarlett O'Hara and one from her final film, "Ship of Fools." Her spirit pervaded the evening.

The Friends of the Libraries, which in previous years had saluted the achievements of Aldous Huxley, Somerset Maugham and Cole Porter, this year chose to honor an actress. The death of Miss Leigh last July and the recent re-release of her most notable film, "Gone With the Wind," made it a poignant occasion.

Chester Erskine, playwright-producer who was personal friend of the actress, moderated the program and set the tone by describing her as "a lovely little pink cloud floating over the lives of all her friends."

Quite naturally, there was a decidedly British flavor to the reminiscences. Gladys Cooper told of playing in "That Hamilton Woman" with Miss Leigh and her new husband Laurence Olivier. Brian Aherne described her gaiety as she received friends for cocktails four days before her death. Greer Garson recalled how she and Vivien made their London stage debuts at almost the same time.

Elsa Lanchester told of Miss Leigh's early success in a film with Charles Laughton. William Wyler was impressed enough to offer the second female lead in "Wuthering Heights," telling her, "You're unknown in the United States and for your first part in America you can't expect much more."

Her first part in America, of course, was "Gone With the Wind," and George Cukor described meeting her during the pre-production firing of Atlanta. Her agent, Myron Selznick, told his brother David and Cukor: "Here's your Scarlett O'Hara."

Joseph Cotton read an excerpt from Radie Harris's forthcoming biography of the actress, and Wilfred Hyde-White read from one of two British biographies. Judith Anderson, Walter Matthau, Rod Steiger and Claire Bloom offered other readings.

Stanley Kramer, who directed Miss Leigh's last film, admitted that it was not always an easy experience. One day she came on the "Ship of Fools" set and announced that the scene would play better if the set were rearranged. Kramer saw some logic in her argument, and although it meant a three-hour delay in shooting, he agreed to the change.

Later she came up behind him and said in a soft voice: "I can see that you are getting disagreeable. But if you think this kind of modified bitchery is difficult, wait until you work with Katie Hepburn." Kramer, who recently died just that, added ruefully, "She was right."

The climax of the evening came with the screening of the original tests she made for "Gone With the Wind." Even with scratchy sound, poor lighting and muddy color, it was plain to see why she was picked to play Scarlett O'Hara.

SELF-SERVICE, PRE-PACKAGED MEATS CAN BE A PROBLEM!

You can see the top side of the meat but not the bottom.

So you wonder.

The steak looks good, but is the bottom all bone and fat?

It's a problem... a problem we've given a lot of thought.

We think we have the answer.

We have a policy.

We put the best side down.

The side you don't see is guaranteed to be equal to or better than the side you can see.

Simple? as ABC.

Effective? No more gamble.

Fair and square? Sure because "We Care."

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

MISS SHARON ARCHER

Sharon Archer Wins Speakers' Tournament

Miss Sharon Archer of the Circleville First Baptist Church won first place in the Association of Speakers' Tournament at the monthly Youth Conference held in Columbus, March 16. This association is made up of 40 Southern Baptist Churches and missions in the Columbus area. The tournament is a project promoted by the Southern Baptist Training Union to stimulate growth toward Christian maturity.

Miss Archer chose for her subject, "False Gods We Worship." She will now be eligible to participate in the state convention which includes all of Ohio, West Virginia, Western Pennsylvania and Western New York. The state winners will then be awarded a trip to Ridgecrest, N. C., or Glorieta, N. M.

Sharon resides at 1015 Sunshine St. She is a junior at Circleville High School where she is engaged in many activities such as Girl's Athletic Assn., Drama Club, Science Club, and a member of 4-H, taking junior leadership training along with sewing. She is presently enrolled in Toastmasters Youth Club. Sharon is active in Sunday School, Training Union, Youth Choir and YWA in her church.

Calvary WSWS Hosts Spring Luncheon

Spring flowers decorated the basement of Calvary EUB Church when the WSWS met for its annual spring luncheon. Eighteen members and five guests were present.

Hostesses for the monthly meeting were Mrs. Russell Archer and Mrs. Louise Gerlach.

The program, "Living Encounters," was presented by Miss Eleanor Wilson, assisted by Mrs. Dale DeLong. Two films were shown on the Buddhists and Moslem faiths. A discussion followed and the program was closed with prayer by Miss Wilson.

Mrs. W. C. Shasteen opened the business meeting by receiving reports from the various secretaries. She announced that members are invited to attend the district meeting March 27, at the First Methodist Church, Circleville.

Mrs. Earl Milirons announced the WSCS convention will be held April 17, and 18 in Westerville.

The meeting was closed in prayer offered by Mrs. G. H. Niswender.

Emmett Chapel Friendship Circle Meets

Emmett Friendship Circle of Emmett Chapel Church held its March meeting recently in the social rooms of the church. The Rev. and Mrs. Foster Jenne and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wellman were hosts for the evening.

The meeting was opened with the group singing "Now I Belong To Jesus," "Each Step I Take" and "Let The Lower Lights Be Burning." Mrs. David Dumm gave a reading on "Let The Lower Lights Be Burning," and a reading on "This Way To Power." Rev. Jenne presented prayer.

Mrs. Dumm presided over the business session. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Steven and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hannigan were welcomed as new members of the group.

Mrs. Dumm appointed Mrs. Orville Gifford, Mrs. Robert Lloyd, Mrs. Marvin A. Rittinger and Larry Beougher on the nominating committee.

Refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Hannigan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Valentine, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Gifford, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Myers, Dr. and Mrs. Steve Drew, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin A. Thyme Waits for Use In Spicy Ham Patties

By ALICE DENHOFF

There is no need to neglect the taste buds when a meal must be prepared in haste. Herbs and spices do so much for so many otherwise mundane recipes. And the many aromatic spice blends are so convenient. We saw one container with a well balanced mixture of spices that in seconds can "correct the seasoning" of most of the ready-to-eat or quick-cook foods we take from the freezer or canned food shelf.

Here is our first recipe:

SPICY HAM PATTIES

2 tsp. powdered mustard
1/2 tsp. ground thyme
3 c. ground cooked ham
1/4 c. fine dry bread crumbs
1/4 tsp. instant garlic powder
1/4 tsp. black pepper
1/4 c. milk
2 eggs, lightly beaten
2 tsp. shortening

Blend mustard with 2 tsp. warm water; let stand 10 min. Combine with thyme and next 6 ingredients. Mix well. Shape into 8 patties. Brown on both sides in hot shortening in heavy skillet.

Serve on piping-hot mashed potatoes.

QUICK SKILLET DINNER

1/2 tsp. powdered mustard
1 lb. ground chuck
1/4 c. fine dry bread crumbs
1 tsp. instant minced onion
1 tsp. salt
1 egg, beaten slightly
1 can (10 1/2-oz.) cream of mushroom soup
1 tsp. each celery flakes and sweet pepper flakes
1/4 c. milk
1 1/2 c. (12 oz.) whole kernel corn

Thyme Waits for Use In Spicy Ham Patties

By ALICE DENHOFF

There is no need to neglect the taste buds when a meal must be prepared in haste. Herbs and spices do so much for so many otherwise mundane recipes. And the many aromatic spice blends are so convenient. We saw one container with a well balanced mixture of spices that in seconds can "correct the seasoning" of most of the ready-to-eat or quick-cook foods we take from the freezer or canned food shelf.

Here is our first recipe:

SPICY HAM PATTIES

2 tsp. powdered mustard
1/2 tsp. ground thyme
3 c. fine dry bread crumbs
1/4 tsp. instant garlic powder
1/4 tsp. black pepper
1/4 c. milk
2 eggs, lightly beaten
2 tbsp. shortening.

Blend mustard with 2 tsp. warm water; let stand 10 min. Combine with thyme and next 6 ingredients. Mix well. Shape into 8 patties. Brown on both sides in hot shortening in heavy skillet.

Serve on piping-hot mashed potatoes.

QUICK SKILLET DINNER

1/2 tsp. powdered mustard
1 lb. ground chuck
1/4 c. fine dry bread crumbs
1 tsp. instant minced onion
1 tsp. salt
1 egg, beaten slightly
1 can (10 1/2-oz.) cream of mushroom soup
1 tsp. each celery flakes and sweet pepper flakes
3/4 c. milk
1 1/2 c. (12 oz.) whole kernel corn

Ohioan Tried In Missouri

WARRENTON, Mo. (AP) — An ex-convict from Ohio went on trial Tuesday for forcible rape, with charges of kidnapping and robbery still pending against him.

The accused, Larry Lee Pollard, 22, of Springfield, Ohio, is charged in the abduction 10 months ago of three women airline ticket clerks in St. Louis.

One woman was shot and wounded in the May 25 incident, and Pollard was arrested in a wheat field near Truxton, Mo., with one of the women still with him.

Summer Job Emphasis Changed

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government planners are making a major shift in the multimillion-dollar effort to keep slum youths off the streets—and out of trouble—this summer.

Instead of trying to find teenagers who want summer jobs, programs this year are aiming more at finding businessmen who will hire the youngsters.

"The problem is the supply of jobs, not the supply of kids," said Gerald W. Christenson, executive director of the President's Council on Youth Opportunities. "We've got plenty of kids who want to work."

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, council chairman, reported recently that last summer "more than 1.5 million people between 16 and 21 who sought work could not find it; and probably an equal number did not even bother to look because they considered the quest hopeless."

One problem, another official conceded, was that the government "really raised the expectations" of slum youth last year with radio commercials which, after plugging the summer programs, told listeners:

"... Call your information operator. Ask for 'Summer Youth.' Call now. Don't let time slip by, or the call may slip from your mind. It could be the most important call you make this summer."

"The kids got the idea that all they had to do to get a job was to pick up the phone," the official said. "We're going to make sure we don't have that problem this year."

The council is dropping all references to information operators in its radio commercials. In one already-recorded spot announcement, Humphrey says: "What our young people need more than anything else are jobs ... and that's where you can help. If you're a businessman, hire a young worker this summer. Ask your friends to do the same."

As if to underscore the new emphasis, President Johnson enlisted Henry Ford II, chairman of Ford Motor Co., and members of the National Alliance of Businessmen to conduct a three-year nationwide program to locate or create jobs for 500,000 unemployed persons.

In addition, Ford's group was asked to try to place 200,000 disadvantaged youths in meaningful jobs this summer. Referring to racial tensions, Ford told newsmen last month that "these people must be given a chance to earn a decent living for themselves ... our very national unity and domestic peace are at stake."

Humphrey urged local officials not to consider summer programs "as anti-riot insurance," but added: "It is obvious that idle young people increase the potential for local disturbances."

Humphrey's youth opportunity council was formed a year ago to coordinate federal, state, local and private programs. Eight cabinet officers are among its 10 members.

The council estimated that more than 10 million youths ages 16 to 21 had summer jobs last year.

How the Weather Looks

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

Spring arrived today to the tune of showers and mild temperatures.

Showers occurred over much of the state during the night and will continue today and tonight. High temperatures today will average in the 60s over most of the state but with some lows 70s near the Ohio River.

Temperatures will lower gradually in northwestern Ohio by late this afternoon and over the rest of the state late tonight and Thursday as a cool front passes. Intermittent rain is forecast for that same period with the heaviest precipitation expected in central and southern Ohio.

Lows tonight will range from the mid 30s in the northwest half of Ohio to near 50 in the southeast half. Thursday's highs will be near 40 in the north and near 50 elsewhere over the state. The outlook for Friday is mostly cloudy and cool with showers ending.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Considerable cloudiness and not as warm with showers tonight. Lows in the southeast. Cloudy and cooler with intermittent rain Thursday.

CENTRAL OHIO — Considerable cloudiness and not as warm with showers tonight. Lows tonight near 50. Cloudy and cooler with intermittent rain Thursday.

NORTHWEST OHIO — Considerable cloudiness and not as warm with scattered showers tonight. Lows tonight in the mid and upper 30s. Cloudy with intermittent rain and cooler Thursday.

SOUTHEAST OHIO — Considerable cloudiness and not as warm with showers tonight. Lows tonight near 50. Cloudy and cooler with intermittent rain Thursday.

SOUTHWEST OHIO — Considerable cloudiness and not as warm with showers tonight. Lows tonight near 50. Cloudy and cooler with intermittent rain Thursday.

Ohio Five-Day Forecast

Temperatures will be near normal Thursday through Monday, with cool weather Friday giving way to warmer temperatures early next week. Highs will average in the 40s and low 50s and lows in the low 30s. Showers the last half of the week will average .5 inch.

Research Center Discussed by Westfall Board

The Westfall Board of Education discussed establishing a Tri-County research center, possibly in Circleville, during its regular session this week.

The center, if established, would service Pickaway, Fairfield and Ross Counties. It would provide such educational materials as films, slides and projectors as well as health and guidance services to participating schools.

The Westfall board approved a budget of $2.25 per student for the center, which would provide annual revenue of approximately $3,600.

For the first two years of operation, the center would be funded through Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

In other business, the principals of each school were bonded and a method of accounting was established for handling activity funds.

The 1968-69 county school calendar was approved, setting the first day of school Sept. 3 and the last day June 4.

Real Fumigation

ALTADENA, Calif. (AP) — An attempt to fumigate a house with burning sulphur cubes ignited a fire and sent 10 firemen who inhaled toxic fumes to the hospital for treatment. One of the cubes ate through a plastic dish and into a bedroom floor, starting a fire, which was doused by firemen after causing damage of $200.

BAMBOOZLED—This member of the 6th Vietnamese Airborne probably wishes he was airborne as he patrols north of Saigon. The area is infested with Viet Cong.

Firemen Let Expensive Home Burn

HIGH RIDGE, Mo. (AP) — The High Ridge volunteer fire department had a rush Tuesday on $7 fire protection tags. More than 100 were sold.

The fire department answered a call Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Akers in a subdivision near High Ridge. Then the firemen watched as the $18,000 home burned to the ground because the owner had not purchased the $7 tag.

"We made certain there were no persons in the house," said chief engineer Ed Hill. "If there had been someone inside we would have saved his life."

"But we need those tag fees to pay for our equipment and meet other expenses," Hill said. "It was no secret that we would let a house burn—we've done it before."

Hill said the volunteer unit has advertised frequently the policy of "no tag, no service." He said persons who cannot afford a tag—pensioners and those on relief for example—are given tags. Churches are also given tags, Hill said.

Romney Hits Riot Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney has expressed disagreement with the presidential riot commission's recommendation of massive federal programs to help Negroes as a means of ending violence.

"My emphasis would be primarily on self-help programs with more emphasis on private, state and local efforts than federal," Romney told the Senate investigations subcommittee Tuesday.

"I do believe that government programs are needed to clear away the obstacles to individual action which have been built into our system during centuries of repression of minorities," Romney added.

Romney also told the subcommittee, investigating last summer's riots, that improved riot-control programs in Michigan will prevent any disturbances of the magnitude which cost 43 lives in Detroit.

North Korean Charge Denied

SEOUL (AP) — The U.N. Command denied a North Korean accusation that U.S. troops attacked a North Korean guard post on the eastern front early today.

A spokesman for the command said there were no incidents along the demilitarized zone today.

"It is another Communist propaganda claim which is ridiculous because there are no U.S. troops deployed on the eastern front," he said.

The only American combat unit on the Korean front, the 2nd Infantry Division, guards an 18-mile sector on the western front. South Koreans guard the rest of the 151-mile DMZ.

North Korea said the American attackers were "repelled and wiped out."

The Printed Word!

WHY IS IT SO IMPORTANT
IN ADVERTISING?

1. IT'S CLEAR
2. IT'S PERMANENT
3. IT'S BELIEVABLE

The newspaper is the GREATEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM for many reasons. One of them is that it carries the power of the printed word. People believe in a message that is permanent — one that is written. They understand it better. Also, the newspaper because of its performance lets the reader choose his own time for absorbing the message. And once put down it can always be picked up again. The message that lives is the one that is written in the newspaper.

"My emphasis would be primarily on self-help programs with more emphasis on private, state and local efforts than federal," Romney told the Senate investigations subcommittee Tuesday.

"I do believe that government programs are needed to clear away the obstacles to individual action which have been built into our system during centuries of repression of minorities," Romney added.

Romney also told the subcommittee, investigating last summer's riots, that improved riot-control programs in Michigan will prevent any disturbances of the magnitude which cost 43 lives in Detroit.

North Korean Charge Denied

SEOUL (AP) — The U.N. Command denied a North Korean accusation that U.S. troops attacked a North Korean guard post on the eastern front early today.

A spokesman for the command said there were no incidents along the demilitarized zone today.

"It is another Communist propaganda claim which is ridiculous because there are no U.S. troops deployed on the eastern front," he said.

The only American combat unit on the Korean front, the 2nd Infantry Division, guards an 18-mile sector on the western front. South Koreans guard the rest of the 151-mile DMZ.

North Korea said the American attackers were "repelled and wiped out."

The Printed Word!

WHY IS IT SO IMPORTANT
IN ADVERTISING?

1. IT'S CLEAR
2. IT'S PERMANENT
3. IT'S BELIEVABLE

The newspaper is the GREATEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM for many reasons. One of them is that it carries the power of the printed word. People believe in a message that is permanent — one that is written. They understand it better. Also, the newspaper because of its performance lets the reader choose his own time for absorbing the message. And once put down it can always be picked up again. The message that lives is the one that is written in the newspaper.

Hippies Waging War on Rubbish

By C. A. MCKENZIE
Central Press Association Correspondent

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—A group of hippies in the Pacific Beach area of San Diego are mixing hard work and cleanliness with their theory of love.

The so-called "flower children" have conducted a series of ardent clean-up campaigns aimed at beautifying their local area.

Pacific Beach hippie displays some ornament the hippies are using in their cleanup battle.

"We see people disturbing nature," says Bonnie Murphy, one of the clean-up originators. "These people mar the city's natural beauty by littering sidewalks and vacant lots and leaving them looking like garbage dumps."

About 50 of the Pacific Beach hippies, ranging in age from 13 to 41, armed themselves with brooms and dustpans to work over the eyesore areas.

Within a few hours on one particular cleanup they filled a 4 by 12-foot trailer with paper, beer cans, pop bottles and other trash scattered on and near the sidewalks.

"The city cleans the streets," says Bonnie, "but nobody bothers with the sidewalks or private lots."

Bonnie candidly admits the hippies hold cleanups for public relations reasons as well as to enhance the city's beauty.

"The public hasn't the smoggiest idea who hippies really

Lions Name Nominating Committee

Nolan Sims Jr., Forrest Thomerson and Frank Woodward Jr. were named to the nominating committee for the Circleville Lions Club during a regular meeting held Tuesday at Wardell Party Home.

Lion President Garold Crites made the appointments.

It was announced the annual state convention of Ohio Lions will be held May 24-25-26 in Cleveland. Lions International President Jorge Bird from San Juan Puerto Rico will be the main speaker.

Jack Goode of J. S. Goode Nursery and Landscaping was the guest speaker. He showed slides on the proper way of landscaping gardens, homes and play areas.

Kiwanians Host CHS Cager Team

Circleville Kiwanis Club hosted the Circleville High School varsity basketball team and coach Monday.

Coach Chuck Hill introduced each of the 12 members of the squad and commended them for establishing the attitude necessary in building a winning team. Coach Hill said that the public support received throughout the season was a great help in building and maintaining the positive attitude that is essential in building a successful team.

He said the example of fine sportsmanship and enthusiasm displayed by the varsity this year will carry over and result in fine teams in the future.

Bill Stout, substituting for Ohio State University Basketball assistant Jack Graf, was the speaker.

Varsity basketball players attending the meeting included Mike Yates, Ty Ankrum, Charlie Jackson, George Hill, Mark Downing, Rick Congrove, Jeff Steele, Dave Hopkins, Mike Neal, Gene Dyke, Phil Diehl and Dave Horst.

are," she says. "Because we have longhair and wear sandals and beads most people think we are all dope fiends and bums. That's wrong."

"The beatniks withdrew from society because they didn't want anything to do with it. Hippies love. And because they love they want to integrate society because they're interested in what's going to happen to themselves and the rest of the world. Hippies are young, concerned Americans."

Bonnie, 22, and her husband, John, own a small sandal and handicraft shop in Pacific Beach. They are members of a year-old hippie group in the area called the Federal Reserve, which helps sponsor the cleanups.

But Bonnie doesn't like the idea of the cleanups being tagged to any group's or person's shirttail.

The cleanups, she says, help ins — they're personal things," she says. "Anyone can get involved because he or she wants to, not because he's following a group."

The cleanups, she says, help the hippies with one of their toughest community obstacles — communication. And the results aren't always positive.

"Communication is one of our biggest hang-ups," Bonnie claims. "We don't have any way of expressing ourselves to the world around us. When we go on a clean-up campaign, people ask us what we are doing and we tell them we're flower children and we love a clean world. They don't always understand what we say, but they can understand what we do."

In one lot, where the hippies spent an afternoon pulling weeds, trimming grass and collecting litter, a Christmas tree lot was set up the following week.

"We asked the lot owner if he could donate a tree to our next love - in because we had cleaned up his lot and the guy said, 'Watta I look like, a charity house?' So you see, we've got a long way to go to reach an understanding with the people around us," says Bonnie.

Despite their set-backs with the Christmas tree merchants, Bonnie says the hippie cleanups will continue.

Chief Logan FB Council Meets

The March meeting of the Chief Logan Farm Bureau Council was held recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Wardell, Clarksburg.

Mrs. John Strawser, chairman, conducted the business meeting.

Mrs. Paul Drummond, read a letter from the Women's Committee asking the group for suggestions for their May tour.

Topic for the meeting was "How Can We Meet The Dangers of Inflation?"

Refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunkle, Mr. and Mrs. David Evans, Mr. and Mrs. John Strawser, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Drummond, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peck, Mr. and Mrs. David Drummond, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Gifford and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin A. Rittinger.

The next meeting of the council will be in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peck.

to learn more about the democratic way of government and specifically, the community.

They visited the offices of the Mayor, the police department, the fire department, the sanitation department, the municipal and probate courts and Berger Hospital.

The young men are going to wash all of the City Police cruisers behind Defenbaugh's Funeral Home Wednesday, as a goodwill gesture.

Uphold Conviction In Murder Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The conviction of Howard Cliff, 26, for first-degree murder in the holdup slaying of Russell. H. Farber in a carryout store here March 18, 1967, was upheld by the Franklin County Court of Appeals Tuesday. Cliff now is in Ohio Penitentiary's death row having been sentenced to die in the electric chair.

Cliff was one of three men charged in the slaying. Felton Davis, 23, was sentenced to life imprisonment and charges against the third man was dropped.

Play Earns Attention, Not Admiration on Broadway

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP) — "Loot," which opened Monday night at Broadway's Biltmore Theater, seethes with black, baleful mirth. It earns attention but not admiration.

Beneath the far-out luxury of the surface plot which involves a tossed-about corpse, farcical sleuthing and a mad-hatter dialogue, author Joe Oron, etches a bitter nihilistic diatribe.

The play won Orton, who was himself slain last August amid peculiar circumstance, a best-of-1966 award in London. Militating against possible repeat success here are provincial eccentricities of the performance as well as the ghastly morbidity of the 34-year-old writer's viewpoint.

During the course of the scrounging chase after a paid al blasts that sometimes shatter even slight credibility.

Others are Carol Shelley, a coy virago of destruction; Kenneth Cranhan and James Hunter, a couple of epicene toughs and Liam Redmond, Orton's virtuous patsy who wind up in handcuffs for a last, ironic twist of comment.

"Loot" was directed by Derek Golby, who earlier this year staged "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead."

From essential satire he has moved to sick mockery.

Kennedy To Open Ohio Headquarters

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Columbus headquarters for "Ohioans for Kennedy—'68" will open within 10 days, a spokesman for the group backing Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said Tuesday.

The spokesman, Ohio State University political science instructor Ira Gaffin, said a "great number of volunteers" have contacted him since Kennedy announced last weekend that he will seek the Democratic nomination for President.

Play Earns Attention, Not Admiration on Broadway

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP) — "Loot," which opened Monday night at Broadway's Biltmore Theater, seethes with black, baleful mirth. It earns attention but not admiration.

Beneath the far-out luxury of the surface plot which involves a tossed-about corpse, farcical sleuthing and a mad-hatter dialogue, author Joe Orton, etches a bitter nihilistic diatribe.

The play won Orton, who was himself slain last August amid peculiar circumstance, a best-of-1966 award in London. Militating against possible repeat success here are provincial eccentricities of the performance as well as the ghastly morbidity of the 34-year-old writer's viewpoint.

During the course of the scrounging chase after a paid of amoral bandits who have planned the plunder of a bank robbery in the coffin of one lad's mother, the array of caricature participants cudgel traditional morality, religion and social order.

Such attack is well within the proper function of theater. But the venom of the assault stirs resentment.

George Rose brings off a portrayal of authoritarian stupidity with redneck vigor and vocal blasts that sometimes shatter even slight credibility.

Others are Carol Shelley, a coy virago of destruction; Kenneth Cranham and James Hunter, a couple of epicene toughs and Liam Redmond. Orton's virtuous patsy who wind up in handcuffs for a last, ironic twist of comment.

"Loot" was directed by Derek Golby, who earlier this year staged "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead."

From essential satire he has moved to sick mockery.

Kennedy To Open Ohio Headquarters

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Columbus headquarters for "Ohioans for Kennedy—'68" will open within 10 days, a spokesman for the group backing Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said Tuesday.

The spokesman, Ohio State University political science instructor Ira Gaffin, said a "great number of volunteers" have contacted him since Kennedy announced last weekend that he will seek the Democratic nomination for President.

Legal Service Programs Aid Poor Ohioans

By STEPHEN H. MILLER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—At a cost of more than $1 million a year, Ohio's poorer citizens are beginning to get their day in court—some courts.

Attorneys running Ohio's 15 newly thriving legal service programs are using federal dollars to help thousands of Ohioans who had no hope for legal aid three years ago.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Boy Has Much Learnin' To Do

DEAR ABBY: Five months ago I hired a 25-year-old Scandinavian girl to live in and help with the cooking and cleaning. She proved to be a wonderful girl with a sweet disposition and potentially an excellent domestic. We grew to feel towards her as we would a daughter.

might turn our son against us. He seems serious about this girl. We want to make the right decision. Can you help us?

PERPLEXED
DEAR PERPLEXED: Apparently your son is under the impression that all a boy needs to get married is a girl who will say yes. You and his father ought to tell him about the birds and the bees, and the lure of an "older woman."

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who retires each night very early, except when a very attractive friend of mine is visiting me for the evening?

He will stay up, and try to be in her company, showing off and being very clever, witty, and charming all the while.

Pickaway Grange

STAR

Star Grange met in regular session Tuesday evening in the Monroe School auditorium with Worthy Master, Harold Furniss presiding. The secretary, Helen Hammel, read the minutes of the last meeting and a "thank you" note from Francis Furniss for flowers and cards he had received while he was in the hospital.

A contribution was made to the Crippled Children Fund and the Home Economics chairman, Mrs. Francis Furniss thanked all for their donations and help at the lunch served Saturday evening at the 4-H and grange building. It was announced that inspection will be held at the regular meeting on April 9 and all members are urged to be present that evening.

The lecturer, Mrs. Ernestine Duleson, presented the program entitled, "Planning a Garden". The chaplain, Mrs. Francis Furniss, gave the thought for the day and each member responded to roll call by naming their favorite vegetable.

"Plant a Garden" was read by Mrs. Robert Morgan and "A Garden" by Mrs. Duleson. Miss Florence Long read, "Seed Catalogs" and Mrs. Wilbur Bethard read, "Hours of Time". The program closed with group singing "In The Garden".

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Reid and Mr. Dale Smith.

Thief Is First

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A thief beat the customers to the Jaycees' sale. Someone took about $2,000 worth of merchandise which businessmen had donated. The goods were stored in a building for the sale scheduled March 30.

DEAR PERPLEXED: Actions speak louder than words.

DEAR ABBY: I have only admiration for the mother who puts her family first, but we have a friend who is so well trained by her children, she is all but a servant to them, and it's not fair!

When this mother has invited guests over, it is one interruption after another. Her children (from 9 to 17 years of age) shout at her from another room, to from upstairs, or from the basement, "MOTHER, COME HERE!" And Mother runs.

All afternoon, it's "Mother, come help me find my this—or that!" Or "Mother, come here! I want to talk to you a minute."

No one would object to a mother's answering the call of a child in an emergency, but it's one petty little thing after another, and all these children are old enough to come to Mother, instead of demanding that Mother run up and down stairs going to them.

It's gotten so that none of her friends want to go to her home unless the children are in school. Would you please comment on this. She reads your column.

HER FRIENDS

DEAR FRIENDS: This accommodating mother is doing her children a grave injustice. She is failing to teach them two of the fundamental facts of life: respect for one's elders, and consideration for others. Her daughters will probably grow up to be spoiled, helpless, demanding women, and her sons will probably order their wives around like they did Mother.

State law provides indigents with a free attorney only in certain juvenile court matters and after indictment for felonies.

Local legal aid societies tried to fill the gap in other cases for almost a century in Ohio, but were severely limited in money and manpower until the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity was created in 1964.

Ohio's capital city of Columbus provides an example of what happened after federal money began flowing—at a current rate of more than $1 million per year in Ohio.

Starting its expansion in 1965 with four attorneys, one downtown office and a six-week backlog of cases, the Columbus program now has 10 attorneys, the downtown office and four neighborhood offices.

In 1965, it picked up 2,912 new cases and its attorneys made 1,600 court appearances. Last year, there were 9,976 new cases and 3,685 court appearances.

Director Roy Martin, and his legal staff work for salaries ranging from $7,440 to $12,900. Like attorneys in most other legal aid programs, they are prohibited from private practice and fee cases.

Views on TV - Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — An hour is a short time in which to do much with a subject as large as the English language but CBS' "Strange Case of the English Language" Tuesday night handled some of the more fascinating aspects very well indeed.

The program didn't tackle basic grammar but took a witty and literate look at some of the more complicated twists and turns. The result was a most entertaining hour.

The program resorted to the film libraries for material to brighten up what was essentially a talk show. It showed Adlai Stevenson and Dwight D. Eisenhower using a lot of words to say little. It showed the styles of orators, from Winston Churchill and Franklin D. Roosevelt to Huey Long and Gerald Smith.

Narrator Harry Reasoner recalled a series of "fashionable" words and phrases "that came suddenly, were overused for a brief period and then disappeared." Among them were "dichotomy," "empathy," "charisma," and "mystique."

Mario Pei, an authority on languages, called English "very practical, very flexible, extremely useable, concise," and said that its worst shortcoming is "the tremendous spread between the pronunciation and the spelling." He added, too, that television, radio and motion pictures are in the process of obliterating local dialects.

Another expert, Theodore Bernstein, author of "The Careful Writer," predicted that the time is coming when the word "whom" will disappear except in cases like "to whom am I speaking?"

The program, written by Andrew Rooney, wandered genially up and down some dark alleys of language. There were some horrible examples of the use of the double negative—

"... I couldn't make no money." But the program ignored one popular language goof that occasionally besets public personalities, most recently Dickie Smothers. It is the I-me confusion—"Our guest will sing with my brother and I."

NBC's Telephone Hour, for so many years a musical landmark in television, will disappear as a regularly scheduled series next season. The program, while generally excellent, has pulled low ratings. Next season there will be two or three Telephone Hour specials, and its sponsor also will present a NBC news department series of four shows on urban problems during 9 and 9:30.

Recommended tonight: "The Avengers," ABC, 7:30-8:30 EST, producing Linda Tio sen who replaces Diana Rigg as the female half of the team of agents; "Bob Hope Show," NBC, 8-10, with Anne Bancroft, "St. John and Arnold Palmer," Jack Benny Special, NBC, 11, with Lucille Ball, Johnnie Carson and Paul Boyer and the Raiders.

Rip Van Winkle Couldn't Sleep with Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains may come with over-exertion, emotional upsets, or everyday stress and strain. If this nagging backache, with restless, sleepless nights, is wearing you out, making you miserable and irritable, don't wait, try Doan's Pain-Relieving Action on nagging backache is often the answer. Get Doan's Pills — not a habit-forming drug but a well-known standard remedy used successfully by millions for over 70 years. See if they don't bring you the same welcome relief. For convenience, always buy Doan's large size.

Seventy lawyers are estimated to be working in Ohio's legal aid programs. Their clients are poor. A family of four cannot earn more than $3,200 a year and still qualify for legal aid.

Like other legal aid programs, the one in Columbus is forbidden by Congressional action from using federal money to handle the criminal cases which are the biggest part of its work.

This means that attorneys handling misdemeanors cases have to be paid from the $44,000 available in local funds. For the smaller part of its work, of which domestic matters account for about one-third, $130,000 in OEO money is available.

Attorneys in Newark's legal services program are all paid from OEO funds—and thus effectively kept out of criminal cases altogether.

Officials outside both programs say the upside-down federal financing represents a Congressional hedge against paying for aid to rioters—at a cost of cutting off aid to others with legitimate legal problems.

Still, because of federal help, county-wide legal service programs are also busy in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Youngstown, Lima, Dayton, Akron, Canton, New Philadelphia, Toledo, Elyria, Hamilton and Portsmouth.

Rural areas remain largely untouched and big cities get most of what money flows to the 14 counties now tapped into the OEO. Cleveland last year received $508,000 and Cincinnati got $176,084.

In the "thinking stage," however, is a three-man office in Athens to serve an Appalachian area including Athens, Hocking, Morgan, Perry, Vinton, Gallia, Jackson and Meigs counties.

As yet, legal service officers observe, there isn't enough money for the 15 programs already in operation, there is none for the proposed Athens office and none for any of the 66 counties remaining after that.

GOV. NELSON ROCKEFELLER is presented with petitions signed by 51,000 persons in Oregon calling on him to enter the state's May 28 presidential primary. Two of the petitioners are Rep. John Dellenback (left) of Medford and Robert H. Noyes, Portland. Scene is Rockefeller's New York apartment.

Lausche Notes
Gilligan Spending
TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)— Sen. Frank J. Lausche still thinks he'll outpoll his opponent in the Democratic primary, but he says he has no hopes of outspending him in the campaign for the nomination.

"If the nomination is to be of money, my chances are going to be very slim," he said Tuesday in an interview. He said his challenger, John J. Gilligan, is campaigning extensively and that "the cost of his campaign will be extraordinary."

Laos Proves a Strange Country

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The Laotians like to stop their war every weekend. They want their fun and rest. That is only one of the puzzling things about Laos.

This "land of a million elephants" is populated by what may be the world's easy-goingest people. And Laos is mixed up now in a sort of international madness which, coupled with its own quirks, leaves the foreigner dazed.

Vientiane, a run-down capital looking like an old American cow-town with Buddhist pagodas thrown in, is a hive of fierce diplomatic activity.

The Soviet mission is bigger by far than in many countries twice this size and is manned by top-grade men. The American mission is huge—there are 500 Americans and as many non-Lao foreigners in the AID mission alone.

Laos has the distinction of having more U.S. military attaches than any country in the world—72 by official count.

With a population about that of Philadelphia, Laos has an army equal in number to the armed forces of Mexico and Canada combined. The country is 85 per cent illiterate, with exactly 89 high school graduates last year, half of them foreigners. It is a place where almost anything can happen and probably will, where a thing can be true if one chooses to believe it is true.

"There is less to this country than meets the eye," remarked one bemused diplomat, replying to a suggestion that perhaps Laos didn't really exist after all.

A war is going on with both sides fighting with guerrillas and conventional forces. The Communist guerrilla forces have headquarters in Vientiane, the capital of a government they have sworn to destroy.

This is because of the fiction of a three-way government—neutral, right and Communist—agreed to at the 1962 Geneva conference. It doesn't exist because the Communists do not take part and they denounce the rest as illegal. But technically, the Communists are still here, and cabinet posts they are supposed to occupy are held by "acting" ministers.

You can look through a high wire fence behind the U.S. Embassy and see the home of Prince Souphanouvong nearby. He is the half-brother of Prime Minister Souvanna Phouma.

Souphanouvong hasn't been in Vientiane since 1963, and now probably is in North Vietnam. But his dilapidated, two-story, dirty-yellow mansion is guarded by troops of the Communist Pathet Lao carrying AK47 guns. His affairs are handled by Souk Pethrassy, representative of the Neo Lao Hak at—the Communist liberation front—in Vientiane. Pethrassy moves comfortably among diplomats at various functions.

A shout away from Souphanouvong's home, hard by the Communications Ministry building, is a Pathet Lao compound surrounded by barbed wire, guarded by men carrying AK47s and wearing sloppy North Vietnamese uniforms. Nearby, other Pathet Lao romp at volleyball or tend a well-kept vegetable garden. These Pathet Lao have the freedom of the capital, though shadowed wherever they go. Not many miles away, their comrades are fighting against government forces.

The easy going atmosphere of Vientiane is so permissive that it makes a mockery of hippies who come here seeking permissiveness. Their psychedelic bar, the Third Eye, has taken on a bourgeois, respectable look, making the few pot-users sprawled in corners look out of place.

Highway Patrol Captain Retires
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The retirement of Capt. Wendell B. Lohr, a veteran Ohio highway patrolman was announced Tuesday.

Lohr, 52, is a native of Massillon. He was the first commandant of the new highway patrol academy here and previously served at posts in Wilmington, Troy, Springfield, Dayton, Chillicothe, Cleveland, Berea and Massillon.

Licking County Blaze Is Fatal
NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—An 86-year-old Licking County man died Tuesday while fighting a grass fire on his farm six miles east of here.

Firemen speculated the victim, George W. Hitchcock, who walked with a cane, might have been surrounded by the fire and trapped. Hitchcock's body was burned nearly beyond recognition.

Jail Escapee Surrenders
LISBON, Ohio (AP) — A 23-year-old escaped prisoner who said he was cold and hungry surrendered Tuesday night to Columbiana County Sheriff Russell Van Fossan at a farm house six miles north of here.

Lester L. Donahue of East Liverpool told Van Fossan he had been wandering through nearby woods since his escape from the county jail here Monday night.

Five other prisoners escaped by sawing their way through bars in a first-floor cellblock and kicking out a window.

READY FOR EASTER PARADE — The grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Maxson, Laurelville, made their annual trek to Block's Shoe Store yesterday for their "Easter shoes." The shoe-buying spree has become a tradition with the Maxsons 'footing the bill.'

MUST PAY INCOME TAX — Five-year-old Mayela Sanchez holds an income tax form prepared for her in Columbus, Ga. She has to pay a tax on the money she earned playing a young Vietnamese girl in the movie, "The Green Berets." Mayela is the daughter of S/Sgt. and Mrs. Frank B. Sanchez.

Jury Given Lewis Case In Delaware

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Delaware County Prosecutor R. Kenneth Kunkel told jurors Tuesday that Columbus businessman Arthur Ben Lewis Jr. resorted to murder last summer in hopes of getting out of a financial pinch.

The case of Lewis, 40, charged with first-degree murder in the shotgun slaying of accountant Paul Radcliffe, 53, Worthington, was to go to a Common Pleas Court jury today. Closing arguments were made Tuesday.

Kunkel said that Lewis was paying on mortgages and notes totaling more than $7,000 a month last summer, when he was attempting to sell one of his businesses. Radcliffe was examining the books of the business for a prospective buyer.

The prosecution contended throughout the trial that Radcliffe was slain because he knew too much about the condition of the business.

Radcliffe's body was found July 19 near a vacant building along Ohio 315 south of here. Lewis was arrested and charged in the slaying in October.

Derby Mrs. Georgia Sweet 896-2462

Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Carl Vance were her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vance of Ashland, Ohio and her grandson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vance Jr. of Florida. Later, Mrs. Vance with her guests called on her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lugenbeel of near Mt. Sterling.

Birthday greetings to Spec. 4 Patrick L. Mason on March 17; Linda Vance, March 24; Manfred Pickleseimer, March 24; Mike Allen.

Anniversaries to date this month include Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hughes on March 13 and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Neff on March 22.

Laos Proves a Strange Country

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The Laotians like to stop their war every weekend. They want their fun and rest. That is only one of the puzzling things about Laos.

This "land of a million elephants" is populated by what may be the world's easy-goingest people. And Laos is mixed up now in a sort of international madness which, coupled with its own quirks, leaves the foreigner dazed.

Vientiane, a run-down capital looking like an old American cow-town with Buddhist pagodas thrown in, is a hive of fierce diplomatic activity.

The Soviet mission is bigger by far than in many countries twice this size and is manned by top-grade men. The American mission is huge—there are 500 Americans and as many non-Lao foreigners in the AID mission alone.

Laos has the distinction of having more U.S. military attaches than any country in the world—72 by official count.

With a population about that of Philadelphia, Laos has an army equal in number to the armed forces of Mexico and Canada combined. The country is 85 per cent illiterate, with exactly 89 high school graduates last year, half of them foreigners. It is a place where almost anything can happen and probably will, where a thing can be true if one chooses to believe it is true.

"There is less to this country than meets the eye," remarked one bemused diplomat, replying to a suggestion that perhaps Laos didn't really exist after all.

A war is going on with both sides fighting with guerrillas and conventional forces. The Communist guerrilla forces have headquarters in Vientiane, the capital of a government they have sworn to destroy.

This is because of the fiction of a three-way government—

neutral, right and Communist—agreed to at the 1962 Geneva conference. It doesn't exist because the Communists do not take part and they denounce the rest as illegal. But technically, the Communists are still here, and cabinet posts they are supposed to occupy are held by "acting" ministers.

You can look through a high wire fence behind the U.S. Embassy and see the home of Prince Souphanouvong nearby. He is the half-brother of Prime Minister Souvanna Phouma.

Souphanouvong hasn't been in Vientiane since 1963, and now probably is in North Vietnam.

But his dilapidated, two-story, dirty-yellow mansion is guarded by troops of the Communist Pathet Lao carrying AK47 guns. His affairs are handled by Souk Pethrassy, representative of the Neo Lao Hak at—the Communist-led liberation front—in Vientiane. Pethrassy moves comfortably among diplomats at various functions.

A shout away from Souphanouvong's home, hard by the Communications Ministry building, is a Pathet Lao compound surrounded by barbed wire, guarded by men carrying AK47s and wearing sloppy North Vietnamese uniforms. Nearby, other Pathet Lao romp at volleyball or tend a well-kept vegetable garden. These Pathet Lao have the freedom of the capital, though shadowed wherever they go. Not many miles away, their comrades are fighting against government forces.

The easy going atmosphere of Vientiane is so permissive that it makes a mockery of hippies who come here seeking permissiveness. Their psychedelic bar, the Third Eye, has taken on a bourgeois, respectable look, making the few pot-users sprawled in corners look out of place.

Highway Patrol Captain Retires

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The retirement of Capt. Wendell B. Lohr, a veteran Ohio highway patrolman, was announced Tuesday.

Lohr, 52, is a native of Massillon. He was the first commandant of the new highway patrol academy here and previously served at posts in Wilmington, Troy, Springfield, Dayton, Chillicothe, Cleveland, Berea and Massillon.

Licking County Blaze Is Fatal

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—An 86-year-old Licking County man died Tuesday while fighting a grass fire on his farm six miles east of here.

Firemen speculated the victim, George W. Hitchcock, who walked with a cane, might have been surrounded by the fire and trapped. Hitchcock's body was burned nearly beyond recognition.

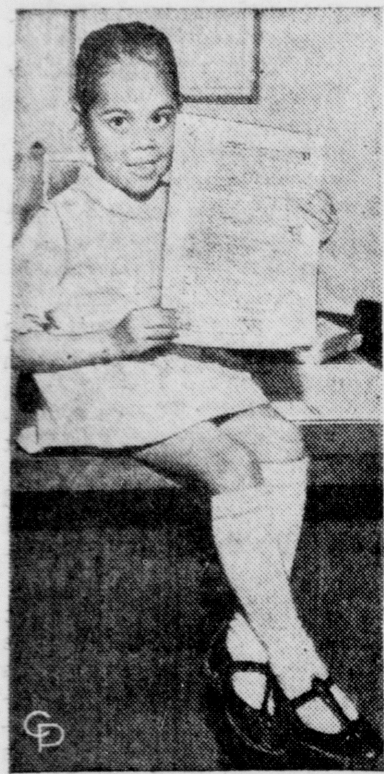

READY FOR EASTER PARADE — The grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Maxson, Laurelville, made their annual trek to Block's Shoe Store yesterday for their "Easter shoes." The shoe-buying spree has become a tradition with the Maxsons "footing the bill."

Jail Escapee Surrenders

LISBON, Ohio (AP) — A 23-year-old escaped prisoner who said he was cold and hungry surrendered Tuesday night to Columbiana County Sheriff Russell Van Fossan at a farm house six miles north of here. Lester L. Donahue of East Liverpool told Van Fossan he had been wandering through nearby woods since his escape from the county jail here Monday night.

Five other prisoners escaped by sawing their way through bars in a first-floor cellblock and kicking out a window.

Jury Given Lewis Case In Delaware

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Delaware County Prosecutor R. Kenneth Kunkel told jurors Tuesday that Columbus businessman Arthur Ben Lewis Jr. resorted to murder last summer in hopes of getting out of a financial pinch.

The case of Lewis, 40, charged with first-degree murder in the shotgun slaying of accountant Paul Radcliffe, 53, Worthington, was to go to a Common Pleas Court jury today. Closing arguments were made Tuesday.

Kunkel said that Lewis was paying on mortgages and notes totaling more than $7,000 a month last summer, when he was attempting to sell one of his businesses. Radcliffe was examining the books of the business for a prospective buyer.

The prosecution contended throughout the trial that Radcliffe was slain because he knew too much about the condition of the business.

Radcliffe's body was found July 19 near a vacant building along Ohio 315 south of here. Lewis was arrested and charged in the slaying in October.

Educators Advance New Plan For Wider Draft Pool

BARNARD SIGNS AUTOGRAPHS—Dr. Christiaan N. Barnard, famed South Africa's heart transplant surgeon, signs autographs at a Press Club luncheon in Chicago, before flying on to Lisbon, Portugal. Later he said he soon would perform his next transplant on one of "several people waiting."

By GARVEN HUDGINS
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Support is mounting among U.S. educators for a broadened draft pool to induct noncollege students, college graduates and graduate students into the armed forces on a quota basis. Such a system would have the effect of placing 19- to 26-year-old eligible youths—excluding college undergraduates—in a single, theoretical age group. Order of call would be based on monthly birth dates, with those born in January subject to first call according to local quotas. In testimony before a special House education subcommittee, prominent university administrators have suggested the plan as an alternative to the present draft policy which falls with major impact on the 22 to 24 age group. In the present system, the oldest eligible youths in the 19- to 26-year-old age group are called first with deferments permitted for college undergraduates, graduate students in the health specialties, essential occupations and fathers who have not also gained exemption as students. Educators view the broadened draft pool proposal as a way to solve the dilemma posed for the nation's graduate schools as a result of a Feb. 15 Selective Service ruling barring deferments for most graduate students. They warn that the ruling will drastically thin out future ranks of trained engineers, scientists, chemists, physicists and humanities specialists. Lifting of draft deferments for graduate school study also threatens to eliminate teacher assistants for undergraduate colleges which commonly rely on graduate students for this duty.

University administrators, however, are not calling for a reinstatement of deferments for graduate students but for an order of call which will be more equitable and will fall on a broader base. "We're not seeking wholesale deferments," says Fred Harrington, president of the 53,000-student University of Wisconsin. "We would like to see a broadened manpower pool established so that some of the students who graduate from college and may be planning to go on to graduate studies will be eligible for the draft but not all of them." The present draft policy on graduate students could set American higher education back 10 years, says Betty M. Vetter, executive director of the Scientific Manpower Commission. "That will be a 10-year setback we can never put right," she says. Mrs. Vetter explains that graduate schools in the United States are expected to award 21,000 doctorate degrees this June. By 1972, the annual total of Ph.D.'s had been expected to reach 27,000. "Under the present draft policy," Mrs. Vetter says, "the number of graduate students who will be available for doctorate degree awards in 1972 will drop to 16,000—the 1962 level." Harrington agrees with Yale's President Kingman Brewster and many other educators who favor abolition of all student deferments and a random lottery of all eligible youths. President Johnson last year proposed a random selection system but Congress is yet to act on it. The broadened draft pool supported by a growing number of educators could be activated, according to Selective Service Director Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, by the President or by the secretary of defense through executive order without congressional action. In support of the broadened pool, Brewster said: "It would offer a better way to spread this liability by age groups. It is certainly undesirable to have the obligation fall on a single group or class and we should avoid placing pressure on any single group." Harrington contends that American prosperity depends on a constant flow of trained men and women. "We have to maintain the flow to move forward," he says. "We can't expect it to be sustained by draft rejects." President John W. Oswald of the University of Kentucky also voices criticism of the present draft system, which he says places an "impractical" impact on eligible youths.

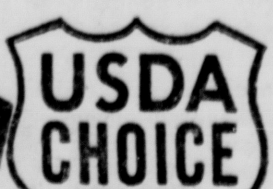

Oswald, speaking for the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges representing 39 colleges and universities across the country, believes universities can perform the services the nation expects only if selection for the draft falls equitably on all ages in the eligible manpower pool. Rep. Edith Green, chairman of the subcommittee, says she intends to bring the concern expressed by educators over present draft policy to the attention of the new secretary of defense, Clark Clifford. As one educator commented: "We are going to have to deal with this question of inequities in the draft in time. It might as well be now."

Change Made In Program of Price-Support

A modification in the price-support program for 1968-crop wheat has been announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This year a farmer may get a loan on wheat delivered to country warehouses without first obtaining official grade and protein determinations. As explained by Galen D. Mowery, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Pickaway County Committee, current price - support regulations provide that when wheat is stored in or delivered to approved warehouses, official grade and protein (hard wheat) determinations are required. The revised price - support regulations will eliminate the requirements pertaining to these determinations of grade and protein for 1968-crop wheat delivered to country warehouses for loans, for loan settlements and for purchases. However, any producer who wishes may request and get the official grade and protein determinations. This should reduce marketing costs as well as simplify and speed up the loan-making and settlements. Yet all interested parties will be protected. The Uniform Grain Storage Agreement (UGSA) is being revised, to become effective July 1, 1968, so that its provisions will conform to the changes being made in the price-support regulations.

Give Trade Data
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—At least 2,600 Ohio manufacturing companies are involved in international trade, according to an Ohio Development Department directory being prepared for release in May. The figure represents 17 per cent of those listed.

Nearly $24 million was spent last year on research and development, with the federal government supplying approximately 63 per cent of the total and the remainder coming primarily from private industry.

Hint at Electronic Snooping In Probe of DuBois Groups

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has indicated the government engaged in electronic snooping in a probe of the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America, which it claims is a Communist front.

The hint came Tuesday when the department asked the Subversive Activities Control Board to delay its hearing, scheduled for March 26 in New York, on whether the club should be ordered to register as a Communist-front group.

The hearing should be delayed, said the department, until the Supreme Court rules on a pending extortion case involving the bugging issue.

If the court rules against the department in the extortion case, the government could wind up having to make available to DuBois Clubs lawyers any information it obtained from eavesdropping activities in connection with the investigation.

In a two-paragraph request to the subversives control board, the department said that while the issue in the case before the Supreme Court is "framed in the context of domestic crime it has special importance in the national security field."

"Accordingly, the government feels it must await the Supreme Court's decision in this case in order to determine whether and on what basis it will go forward with the case against the W.E.B. DuBois Clubs of America."

It could not be learned whether the government probe included wiretapping.

Arrest Fugitive In Murder Case

SEATTLE (AP) — Troy Denver Martin, one of the country's 10 most-wanted fugitives who faces murder and kidnapping charges in Michigan, was arrested by FBI agents on a downtown Seattle street Tuesday.

The 41-year-old fugitive was taken immediately before U. S. Commissioner Walter J. Reseburg. Martin waived his right to a preliminary hearing and Reseburg set bail at $100,000.

The FBI said Martin is charged with kidnapping a Britton, Mich., farmer, Thomas E. Cyr, last Jan. 27. Cyr was released unharmed in Toledo, Ohio.

"MOST WANTED"—Habitual bank robber George Benjamin Williams (above), who has spent most of his adult life behind bars, is a new name on the FBI's list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives." Williams, 56, is a native of Oregon, is 5-foot-6, weighs 155, has blue eyes and a ruddy complexion. Tip of ring finger on his right hand is missing.

Police Brutality Complaints Aired

CINCINNATI (AP) — "If there is police brutality we will do something about it," Mayor Eugene Ruehlmann told a gathering Tuesday night in response to complaints about police harassment in arrests of Negroes.

Speaking before a packed Meeting of the West End Community Council, Ruehlmann said, "I came here not to defend the actions of anyone, ... and I have asked for a full report on your complaints."

The council had sent a letter to the mayor asking him to investigate cases of the alleged police harassment.

UCLA, Houston in Battle Of Year in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Coach John Wooden of UCLA admits there will be an advantage to his basketball team in playing Houston at the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

BRUINS' BEST—If Houston is to retain its top cage position in the N.C.A.A. playoffs it will have to get by U.C.L.A. and its 7-foot-plus Lew Alcindor (above) when they meet Friday, March 22, in a re-play of the BIG game of the year. In the first meeting, Houston beat the Bruins, 71 to 69, in Houston.

"We'd rather be playing in the Sports Arena than in the Astrodome or on their home court," Wooden said today. "But there isn't the edge at the Sports Arena that there would be if we played at Pauley Pavilion."

The latter is the home court of the Bruins, who battle Houston Friday night in one of the two semifinal games of the NCAA's championship tournament.

National League To Expand Soon?

MIAMI (AP) — The National League's three-man expansion committee meets today amidst rising sentiment for enlarging the league to 12 teams next baseball season instead of in 1971 as is now planned.

"When we decided to expand not later than 1971," said Warren Giles, president of the league, "there was considerable sentiment against earlier expansion. I sense a little change in the feeling. But I won't know how strong it is until I talk to all the owners."

The American League will add two teams next season and may split into two divisions with the winners meeting in a playoff to determine the league's World Series representative.

Paul Feldhausen Signs with Patriots

BOSTON (AP) — Paul Feldhausen, a 6-foot-6 offensive tackle at Northland, Wis., College, has signed his contract with the Boston Patriots of the American Football League.

Feldhausen, a 274-pounder who was Boston's ninth draft choice, Tuesday became the club's third draft choice to sign.

Class A All-Ohio Basketball Teams Are Announced

Outstanding Trio Make First Team

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three outstanding Class A players who led their schools into the state championship tournament this weekend were named today to The Associated Press All-Ohio basketball team.

Doug Alt of Mansfield St. Peter, John Kennedy of Springfield Local and Ray Rigbsy of Western of Pike County were among the 10 small school cagers selected to the all-state squad.

A panel of sports writers and sportscaster helped pick the scholastic stars.

Alt, a 6-foot senior, averaged 22.1 points a game in sparking St. Pete into the St. John Arena classic. Kennedy, a 6-1 senior, hit for 25 a game and Rigbsy, a 6-3 senior, 20.1.

Charles Palmer of Westfall and Royce Woolever of Logan Elm both were named to the honorable mention list of the All Ohio Class A basketball squad announced today by the Associated Press.

Palmer, a senior, played at guard while Woolever, a junior, was the Braves' 6-8 center.

Other area cagers on the honorable mention list include Bob Bowers, 6-3 senior center and Mike Kneece, 5-11 junior guard for Laurelville; Jeff Reisinger, 6-3 sophomore center at Zane Trace.

In addition to Palmer, Woolever, Bowers and Kneece, the Scioto Valley Conference was represented by Mike Kinnamon of Paint Valley, and Dave Juenger of Union.

Bill Miles, Canal Winchester's 6-6 senior center, was a first team selection. Winchester was co-champion of the Teays Valley Sectional along with Logan Elm.

The three, along with Cincinnati Lincoln Heights junior Mike Battle, who made the second team, will be on display when the small school powers battle for the Class A championship Friday and Saturday.

No player of the year was chosen.

Others on the all-state squad include Doug Hill, Southeastern of Ross County's stellar 5-11 senior who averaged 21.8 a game; Larry McElfresh of Germantown, a 6-0 senior hitting 20.1; Bill Miles, 6-6 senior from Canal Winchester, 20.5; 6-3 junior Mark Thompson, Mount Pleasant, 24.0; Bob Howell of Mendon-Union, a 6-5 senior who caned 36.6 a game; Bill Chapman of Avon, 6-5, senior, 24.8; and 6-2 junior Tim Miller of Garaway, 12.6.

Bunning To Lead Pirate Assault

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Jim Bunning is the man who is expected to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates out of the thorny wilderness of sixth place and make them a real pennant factor after a bitter year of disappointment.

The deal that brought Bunning to the Pirates from the Phillies for Woody Fryman and three rookies still is hard to believe in some quarters.

Adding a topflight workhorse starter and strikeout ace to a team that led the league in hitting by 14 points at .277 could add up to a pennant.

Larry Shepard, the new manager who was the Phils' pitching coach last year, is confident he can fit superstars like Bunning, Maury Wills and Roberto Clemente into a cohesive unit that will erase the memories of last season.

For Shepard this is a chance to show his stuff in a big league setting after years of frustration in the minors.

Passed over for Harry Walker when the Pirates made their last change, Larry left the organization as a farm club manager and moved to the Phils.

At the age of 43 the man who never made it in the big show as a pitcher finally is in charge.

It took no genius to observe from afar that the Pirates' big problem was pitching. The staff's earned run average was ninth in the league.

"Bunning is just the type of pitcher I wanted," said Shepard. "I have admired him for years but really got to know him last year. Gene Mauch and I were having dinner in Mexico during the winter meetings when he told me, 'You can have anybody you want.'"

"He whistled and I came. I told him to say no more and he'd be hearing from us. We made the Bunning deal a few days later."

Shepard has some very positive ideas about pitching and the problems of the Pirate staff.

"I think the pitching was mainly a problem of starting one day and then going to the bullpen the next time unless you had done a great job," he said. "As a result the pitchers were scared to death. You've got to build up a pitcher's confidence to make him a real starter."

For years the Pirates have counted on Bob Veale, 16-8, to be the ace of the staff. Many think the addition of Bunning, 17-15 with the Phils, relieves the pressure on hard-throwing Veale to be No. 1.

If Veale decides to challenge Bunning for the top spot, the Pirates will be the gainers. Tommie Sisk, 13-13; Steve Blass, 6-8 and Al McBean, 7-4, are the others who will take a regular turn.

In the early exhibition games both Bill Mazeroski and Gene Alley have been riding the bench with injuries. Maz's trouble was only a pulled muscle, but Alley is concerned about a shoulder injury that hasn't permitted him to cut loose with the ball.

Shepard and the Pirates think it is only a matter of time until it comes around but any further delay could be a real headache. Willie Alley was out, Maury Wills moved over from third to play short and Jose Pagan was at third. Wills, incidentally, is reported in good shape with no problems from the knee that bothered him last year.

Shepard was glad to see Donn Clendenon hit a homer in the first exhibition because the first baseman's 56-point slump to .248 last year was disturbing. There were times when Willie Stargell moved in from left field to play first. Stargell has his weight under control and is aiming to regain an outfield job on the All-Star team.

Roberto Clemente, the reigning batting champ and four-time winner of the title, is getting ready for another super year in right field. Matty Alou and Manny Mota again will platoon in center and Stargell will patrol left.

Jerry May became the first string catcher last season when he hit .271 but there is no clear cut back-up man.

35 Candidates Turn Out For Logan Elm Baseball

Logan Elm High School baseball coach, Vic Pontius, had a turnout of 35 candidates for the varsity squad this year, including only three lettermen:

Three other candidates with some varsity experience are Larry Stant, second baseman-outfielder who missed last year with an injury; Steve Montgomery, who played some as a sophomore but did not participate last year; Jim Orders, who transferred from Logan Elm at mid-season last year but has returned.

Pontius expects to fill many of the positions with youngsters up from last year's reserve squad.

THE varsity last year won five and lost five in Scioto Valley Conference play.

With Adena competing this year, the Braves will play a double round of 12 games in the league.

No dugouts have been completed at the Braves' diamond this year and will be used for the first time.

Chuck Pritchard will assist Pontius with the varsity coaching duties this year and will also coach the reserve squad.

Logan Elm is looking for games to fill out a reserve schedule, Pontius noted.

Bill Mallory Is Sports Fete Speaker

The Circleville High School Booster Club winter sports banquet will be held 8:30 p. m. Monday at the High School.

Members of the varsity, reserve, freshman and junior high basketball and wrestling teams will be honored.

Bill Mallory, line coach at Ohio State University, will be the principal speaker.

Mallory has been a member of the Ohio State University football coaching staff since January of 1966. He is the defensive interior line coach, working with tackles and middle guards. He is a native of Hillsboro, although he graduated from Sandusky High School.

He was an All-Mid American end at Miami where he received his Bachelor of Science Degree in Education in 1957. Before going to Ohio State, Mallory coached at East Palestine High School, Bowling Green and Yale University.

Hope To Keep Seals in Oakland

NEW YORK (AP) — The door remained open today for possible transfer of the expansion Oakland Seals to Vancouver, B.C., but several members of the National Hockey League's board of governors were hopeful of slamming it shut.

The governors met Tuesday and received no application for transfer of either ownership or franchise of the financially troubled Seals, despite optimistic statements by Frank Tatum, the club's attorney, that such application may be just around the corner.

A FLIP AND A FLOP—Showing off his unorthodox high-jumping style is Dick Fosbury of Oregon State. Dick features the "Fosbury Flop" in which he approaches the bar in the usual way, then takes his jump over backwards. He recently did 7 feet in a Detroit meet.

Baltimore Orioles End Reds' String With 8-3 Victory

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles, capitalizing on two errors and homers from Boog Powell and Curt Blefary, defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 8-3 Tuesday.

The loss, the Reds' second in 10 exhibition games, ended a seven-game winning streak.

Baltimore got three quick runs in the first inning on the Reds' first error. With the bases loaded, Powell hit a single to bring in the first run and Dave May doubled to left for two more.

Another Reds miscue — in the seventh — set up another run for the Orioles. May went to second on Hal McCrae's two-base error and Mark Belanger squeezed him home on a bunt.

In the eighth, Powell's three-run homer and Blefary's solo blast iced the game for the Orioles.

All three Reds scores came on homers in the ninth—a two-run blast by Bob Raudman and then Stan Swanson's base-empty score.

Pete Richert took the victory for Baltimore; McCool was the loser.

Few major league ballplayers consider a nightmarish slump a beneficial turning point in their careers, but first baseman George Scott of the Boston Red Sox is an exception.

In an exhibition game Tuesday, the Red Sox were pounded by Detroit 13-3, Scott getting one hit in his lone time at bat.

In other games, the New York Mets beat Philadelphia 4-2, the Chicago White Sox took Minnesota 5-4, Houston blanked Los Angeles 1-0, Washington crushed Atlanta 7-1, St. Louis destroyed Pittsburgh 11-1, and the Chicago Cubs beat San Francisco 5-4.

Also, Baltimore stomped Cincinnati 8-3, Cleveland took California 4-1 and the New York Yankees beat the Mexico City Tigers 8-6.

Scott, 24 this week, is looking forward to "a real big year." Although trying to hit more with his wrists than with his body, he is confident of a tremendous season.

"All I need now is sharpness, getting my timing down. I'm confident now because I feel I have a job. I'm quick, but I want to be even quicker. That will come in another week or so."

Jim Northrup had a home run and a triple and Mickey Stanley had a three-run homer, leading the Tigers to their lopsided win over the Red Sox Tuesday. J.C. Martin drove in two runs for the Mets and Bob Hendley pitched three scoreless innings against the Phillies.

Buddy Bradford's two-run double sent the White Sox past the Twins. Three Houston pitchers — Wade Blasingame, Tom Dukes and Danny Coombs—limited the Dodgers to three hits for the Astros.

Fred Valentine had a three-run homer and a pair of doubles and Mike Epstein had a two-run homer for the Senators. Curt Flood had two triples, Tim McCarver three hits and Ed Spezio a two-run homer for the Cardinals.

Bill Schlessinger scored the tie-breaking run in the ninth to win for the Cubs. Jack Hatt homered for the Giants. Boog Powell hit a three-run homer and Curt Blefary a one-run shot for the Orioles in beating the Reds.

Stan Williams and Steve Bailey stopped the Angels on two hits for the Indians. Bill Robinson homered, doubled, singled and drove in five runs for the Yanks.

NFL Players Set Demands

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Football League's management and labor, meeting formally for the first time in collective bargaining, have several gaps to close before agreement. This was apparent Tuesday as the first of a series of meetings was held between the National Football League Players Association and club owners.

The NFLPA presented a 25-page list of demands and amplified proposals.

Art Modell, owner of the Cleveland Browns and NFL president, said that "economically, some are impossible to accommodate; and constitutionally, some usurp the authority of Commissioner Pete Rozelle."

Modell would not elaborate other than indicate that among economic objections were a $15,000 minimum salary and a $5 million pension contribution.

Class A All-Ohio Basketball Teams Are Announced

Outstanding Trio Make First Team

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three outstanding Class A players who led their schools into the state championship tournament this weekend were named today to The Associated Press All-Ohio basketball team.

Doug Alt of Mansfield St. Peter, John Kennedy of Springfield Local and Ray Rigshy of Western of Pike County were among the 10 small school cagers selected to the all-state squad.

A panel of sports writers and sportscaster helped pick the scholastic stars.

Alt, a 6-foot senior, averaged 22.1 points a game in sparking St. Pete into the St. John Arena classic. Kennedy, a 6-1 senior, hit for 25 a game and Rigshy, a 6-3 senior, 20.1.

Charles Palmer of Westfall and Royce Woolver of Logan Elm both were named to the honorable mention list of the All Ohio Class A basketball squad announced today by the Associated Press.

Palmer, a senior, played at guard while Woolver, a junior, was the Braves' 6-8 center.

Other area cagers on the honorable mention list include Bob Bowers, 6-3 senior center and Mike Kneec, 5-11 junior guard for Laurelville; Jeff Reisinger, 6-3 sophomore center at Zane Trace.

In addition to Palmer, Woolver, Bowers and Kneec, the Scioto Valley Conference was represented by Mike Kibnamon of Paint Valley, and Dave Juenger of Unioto.

Bill Miles, Canal Winchester's 6-6 senior center, was a first team selection. Winchester was co-champion of the Teays Valley Sectional along with Logan Elm.

The three, along with Cincinnati Lincoln Heights junior Mike Battle, who made the second team, will be on display when the small school powers battle for the Class A championship Friday and Saturday.

No player of the year was chosen.

Others on the all-state squad include Doug Hill, Southeastern of Ross County's stellar 5-11 senior who averaged 21.8 a game; Larry McElfresh of Germantown, a 6-0 senior hitting 20.1; Bill Miles, 6-6 senior from Canal Winchester, 20.5; 6-3 junior Mark Thompson of Mount Pleasant, 24.0; Bob Howell of Mendon-Union, a 6-5 senior who canned 36.6 a game; Bill Chapman of Avon, 6-5, senior, 24.8; and 6-2 junior Tim Miller of Garaway, 12.6.

Bunning To Lead Pirate Assault

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Jim Bunning is the man who is expected to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates out of the thorny wilderness of sixth place and make them a real pennant factor after a bitter year of disappointment.

The deal that brought Bunning to the Pirates from the Phillies for Woody Fryman and three rookies still is hard to believe in some quarters.

Adding a topflight workhorse starter and strikeout ace to a team that led the league in hitting by 14 points at .277 could add up to a pennant.

Larry Shepard, the new manager who was the Phils' pitching coach last year, is confident he can fit superstars like Bunning, Maury Wills and Roberto Clemente into a cohesive unit that will erase the memories of last season.

For Shepard this is a chance to show his stuff in a big league setting after years of frustration in the minors.

Passed over for Harry Walker when the Pirates made their last change, Larry left the organization as a farm club manager and moved to the Philies.

35 Candidates Turn Out For Logan Elm Baseball

Logan Elm High School baseball coach, Vic Pontius, had a turnout of 35 candidates for the varsity squad this year, including only three lettermen.

Three other candidates with some varsity experience are Larry Stant, second baseman-outfielder who missed last year with an injury; Steve Montgomery, who played some as a sophomore but did not participate last year; Jim Orders, who transferred from Logan Elm at mid-season last year but has returned.

Pontius expects to fill many of the positions with youngsters up from last year's reserve squad.

The varsity last year won five and lost five in Scioto Valley Conference play.

With Adena competing this year, the Braves will play a double round of 12 games in the league.

No dugouts have been completed at the Braves' diamond this year and will be used for the first time.

Chuck Prichard will assist Pontius with the varsity coaching duties this year and will also coach the reserve squad.

Logan Elm is looking for games to fill out a reserve schedule, Pontius noted.

Bill Mallory Is Sports Fete Speaker

The Circleville High School Booster Club winter sports banquet will be held 6:30 p. m. Monday at the High School.

Members of the varsity, reserve, freshman and junior high basketball and wrestling teams will be honored.

Bill Mallory, line coach at Ohio State University, will be the principal speaker.

Mallory has been a member of the Ohio State University football coaching staff since January of 1966. He is the defensive interior line coach, working with tackles and middle guards.

He is a native of Hillsboro, although he graduated from Sandusky High School.

He was an All-Mid American end at Miami where he received his Bachelor of Science Degree in Education in 1957. Before going to Ohio State, Mallory coached at East Palestine High School, Bowling Green and Yale University.

Jerry May became the first string catcher last season when he hit .271 but there is no clear cut back-up man.

Jim Northrup had a home run and a triple and Mickey Stanley had a three-run homer, leading the Tigers to their lopsided win over the Red Sox Tuesday. J.C. Martin drove in two runs for the Mets and Bob Hendley pitched three scoreless innings against the Phillies.

Dayton Wins Squeaker in NIT

NEW YORK (AP) — Long Island U. misses the free throw it didn't get, but Dan Obrovac doesn't miss any free throws. That's why Dayton is in the semifinals of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament and LIU isn't.

Dayton barely managed to come out of Tuesday's night's hand-wringing quarter-finals with a 61-60 victory over surprising Fordham when Obrovac, another surprise, hit six straight free throws in the final 2½ minutes.

But Long Island, the No. 1 small college team, never got that chance from the free throw line when no foul was called on a last-minute collision. Instead, the Blackbirds had to do their shooting from the field and their superb Larry Newbold felt just short as tough Notre Dame grabbed a 62-60 triumph in the nightcap of the doubleheader.

"Some foul should have been called — for us or against us," said disappointed Long Island Coach Roy Rubin about the collision. It involved Newbold and an Irish player as Newbold drove down the lane with 40 seconds left.

But none was, and Notre Dame held the ball and its 61-60 lead until Jim Derring's free throw with four seconds remaining.

Newbold had one more chance. But the 6-foot-2 small

Royals Win Over 76ers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wilt Chamberlain leads the National Basketball Association in assists — 690 of varying degrees for the Philadelphia 76ers and one mighty big one for the Cincinnati Royals.

The giant Philadelphia center, leading marksman in the league, lent Cincinnati a helping hand Tuesday night by missing a last-second shot that preserved the Royals' dramatic 131-130 overtime victory and pulled them into an exact tie with idle Detroit for the fourth and last playoff in the Eastern Division.

Cincinnati plays at New York tonight while Detroit visits Boston as the NBA winds up its regular season. If they're still tied, a one-game playoff is set for Detroit Friday night. The eventual winner will face Boston in the first round of the postseason playoffs.

In other Tuesday night action, Los Angeles beat San Diego 121-109 and Seattle defeated Chicago 122-104.

Kentucky, N.J. Battle in ABA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New Jersey still is in fourth place in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division, but its grip on that final playoff spot is precarious indeed.

Kentucky, fighting the Americans for the playoff spot, beat New Jersey 115-98 Tuesday night to pull within one-half game of fourth place.

The Americans only have one game left, in Dallas tonight, and the Chaparrals, fighting for first place in the Western Division, are unlikely to take it easy on them. Kentucky has games left with Pittsburgh and Indiana.

In other games, Pittsburgh beat Anaheim 150-122 and New Orleans defeated Oakland 102-92.

Connie Hawkins Top ABA Scorer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Connie Hawkins of the Pittsburgh Pipers has just about wrapped up the individual scoring title in the American Basketball Association.

The latest weekly league statistics showed Tuesday that he has scored 1,737 points for an average of 26.7 through games of March 16.

Dou Moe of New Orleans is second at 24.3 and Levern Tarr of New Jersey third at 23.9.

Declare Dispute On Track Over

WASHINGTON (AP) — The recommendations of a federal panel to end the dispute over control of track and field in the United States have been declared in effect, although two parties to the fight have not yet accepted it.

Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, said Tuesday the arbitration board's decision would be in effect, although he granted more time to the National Collegiate Athletic Association to study the ruling.

college All-American hit the front rim with his jumper from the corner as time ran out.

The senior guard, moving inside, single-handedly pulled the Blackbirds back from a 41-28 deficit with 23 points in the second half, including LIU's last 11. He finished with 35.

Notre Dame overcame Newbold with Bob Whitmore's 23 points and 16 by Bob Arzen, and sub George Restovich's basket with two minutes left for 61-58 lead.

Notre Dame, in its first NIT, meets Dayton and St. Peter's, N.J., opposes Kansas in the semis Thursday night.

"Now we've beaten the No. 1 small college team and the No.

1 defensive team (Army)," said Irish Coach Johnny Dee. "Not bad for a club that wasn't supposed to go anywhere."

Obrovac, a 6-10 sophomore, only gained a starting spot in January and had averaged only 6.6 points a game.

But against West Virginia in the first round, he hit 30 points, and against Fordham he collected 11 points in the last half as Dayton overcame Fordham's 33-28 intermission lead. He hit seven-of-seven free throws as Dayton hit 150-15 after the break.

Dayton's second team All-American Don May, kept the Flyers in the game with 23 points before Obrovac took over.

Del Insko Wins 2,000th Race

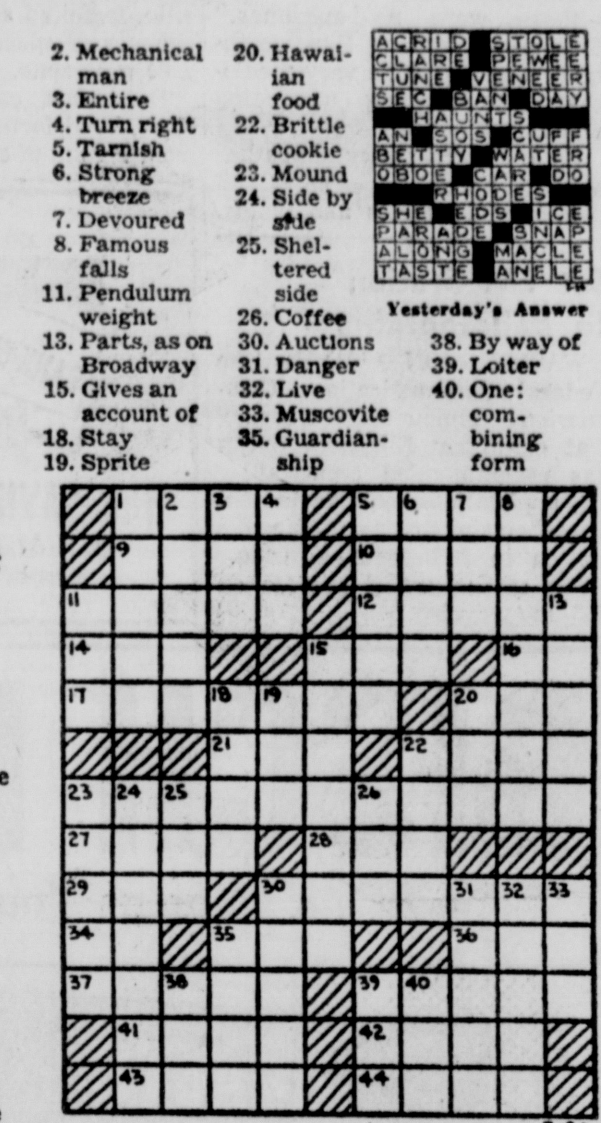

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — At 5-foot-2, Del Insko seems only a little bigger than the toothpicks he constantly cheats.

Yet today the diminutive 120-pounder ranks more than ever with the elite of harness racing drivers.

He drove his 2,000th career winner in the ninth race at Yonkers Raceway Tuesday night. This is a historic plateau reached previously by only five drivers, all big names in the sulky sport.

Dayton Wins Squeaker in NIT

NEW YORK (AP) — Long Island U. misses the free throw it didn't get, but Dan Obrovac doesn't miss any free throws. That's why Dayton is in the semifinals of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament and LIU isn't.

Dayton barely managed to come out of Tuesday's night's hand-wringing quarter-finals with a 61-60 victory over surprising Fordham when Obrovac, another surprise, hit six straight free throws in the final 2½ minutes.

But Long Island, the No. 1 small college team, never got that chance from the free throw line when no foul was called on a last-minute collision. Instead, the Blackbirds had to do their shooting from the field and their superb Larry Newbold felt just short as tough Notre Dame grabbed a 62-60 triumph in the nightcap of the doubleheader.

"Some foul should have been called — for us or against us," said disappointed Long Island Coach Roy Rubin about the collision. It involved Newbold and an Irish player as Newbold drove down the lane with 40 seconds left.

But none was, and Notre Dame held the ball and its 61-60 lead until Jim Derring's free throw with four seconds remaining.

Newbold had one more chance. But the 6-foot-2 small

Royals Win Over 76ers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wilt Chamberlain leads the National Basketball Association in assists — 690 of varying degrees for the Philadelphia 76ers and one mighty big one for the Cincinnati Royals.

The giant Philadelphia center, leading marksman in the league, lent Cincinnati a helping hand Tuesday night by missing a last-second shot that preserved the Royals' dramatic 131-130 overtime victory and pulled them into an exact tie with idle Detroit for the fourth and last playoff in the Eastern Division.

Cincinnati plays at New York tonight while Detroit visits Boston as the NBA winds up its regular season. If they're still tied, a one-game playoff is set for Detroit Friday night. The eventual winner will face Boston in the first round of the postseason playoffs.

In other Tuesday night action, Los Angeles beat San Diego 121-109 and Seattle defeated Chicago 122-104.

Kentucky, N.J. Battle in ABA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New Jersey still is in fourth place in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division, but its grip on that final playoff spot is precarious indeed.

Kentucky, fighting the Americans for the playoff spot, beat New Jersey 115-98 Tuesday night to pull within one-half game of fourth place.

The Americans only have one game left, in Dallas tonight, and the Chaparrals, fighting for first place in the Western Division, are unlikely to take it easy on them. Kentucky has games left with Pittsburgh and Indiana.

In other games, Pittsburgh beat Anaheim 150-122 and New Orleans defeated Oakland 102-92.

Connie Hawkins Top ABA Scorer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Connie Hawkins of the Pittsburgh Pipers has just about wrapped up the individual scoring title in the American Basketball Association.

The latest weekly league statistics showed Tuesday that he has scored 1,787 points for an average of 26.7 through games of March 16.

Dou Moe of New Orleans is second at 24.3 and Levern Tart of New Jersey third at 23.9.

Declare Dispute On Track Over

WASHINGTON (AP) — The recommendations of a federal panel to end the dispute over control of track and field in the United States have been declared in effect, although two parties to the fight have not yet accepted it.

Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, said Tuesday the arbitration board's decision would be in effect, although he granted more time to the National Collegiate Athletic Association to study the ruling.

college All-American hit the front rim with his jumper from the corner as time ran out.

The senior guard, moving inside, single-handedly pulled the Blackbirds back from a 41-28 deficit with 23 points in the second half, including LIU's last 11. He finished with 35.

Notre Dame overcame Newbold with Bob Whitmore's 23 points and 16 by Bob Arnzen, and sub George Restovich's basket with two minutes left for 61-58 lead.

Notre Dame, in its first NIT, meets Dayton and St. Peter's, N.J., opposes Kansas in the semis Thursday night.

"Now we've beaten the No. 1 small college team and the No.

1 defensive team (Army)," said Irish Coach Johnny Dee. "Not bad for a club that wasn't supposed to go anywhere."

Obrovac, a 6-10 sophomore, only gained a starting spot in January and had averaged only 6.6 points a game.

But against West Virginia in the first round, he hit 30 points, and against Fordham he collected 11 points in the last half as Dayton overcame Fordham's 33-28 intermission lead. He hit seven-of-seven free throws as Dayton hit 15-of-15 after the break.

Dayton's second team All-American Don May, kept the Flyers in the game with 23 points before Obrovac took over.

Negro Sheriff Charges White Cops in Probe

Complaint Filed
Following Alleged
Beating of Man

TUSKEGEE, Ala., (AP) — Alabama's only Negro sheriff has arrested a police chief and state trooper, both white, on a Negro's complaint that he was beaten following his arrest.

Sheriff Lucius Amerson of Macon County said Tuesday that he charged Natusulga Police Chief Bobby G. Singleton and state trooper James H. Bass in warrants signed by Ocie Lee Devance, a Macon County Negro.

Singleton was charged with drawing and threatening to use a dangerous weapon and Bass with assault and battery. The sheriff said both men, arrested Monday, were freed on $300 bonds for court appearance April 1.

"I will by no means permit this kind of activity to go on in Macon County," Amerson said. "It's a disgrace to have to go out and arrest other law enforcement officers on charges like this."

The sheriff gave this account: Devance was arrested Saturday night by Singleton on a charge of disorderly conduct. Devance, who is in his early 20s, was taken to Natusulga Jail, where Bass was waiting.

Devance said Bass hit him on the side of the head two or three times, knocked him to the floor and kicked him in the chest.

He told the sheriff the men later took him to the Natusulga police station, where the chief held him while Bass struck him. Devance said the men fired their pistols near his feet and head before releasing him.

Science Fair Projects Rated High

Students from Circleville Junior High School were outstanding in their presentations at the District Science Fair held at the French Field House, Columbus, on Saturday.

Out of the 29 students chosen to participate, eight received awards of "superior" and 18 received "excellent" ratings.

Receiving the superior awards with the titles of their projects are as follows: Tim Burns, St. Lawrence Seaway; June Brudzinski, Crystals; Glen Gillespie, Volcanoes; Gregory Hoskins, Brine Shrimp; Marcus Lackey, Study of Waves; Marilyn Marshall, Snell's Law; Amy Mehalick, Windmill Greenhouse; Mary Beth Rhoads, Development of a Chick.

Say Sejna Knew Military Secrets

PRAGUE (AP) — A Czechoslovak staff officer said today that Gen. Jan Sejna, who fled to the United States last month, possessed extensive knowledge of military installations in Czechoslovakia. He challenged the defense minister to tell the nation about it.

This first admission of military repercussions of the Sejna scandal came from Reserve Col. Lubo Kohout as the army's chief political officer was in Moscow for talks with top Soviet military leaders.

Spring Arrives, but March Could Still Hold Some Surprises

NEW YORK (AP) — Spring arrived today bringing with it a promise of sunshine, gentle breezes and blossoms, followed by a gradual increase in small boys climbing trees.

However, Henry Van Dyke, an American clergyman, author and teacher, warned many years ago: "The first day of spring is one thing, and the first spring day is another. The difference between them is sometimes as great as a month."

To which Dr. J. Murray Mitchell adds an amen. He is a climate change expert for the U.S. Weather Bureau in Washington. And he says March still is a dangerous month. He foresees hard freezes, at least on the East Coast. And one more substantial snowstorm wouldn't surprise him.

But the swallows are back at Capistrano and astronomically

the winter is over—a winter of varying discontent.

At the Capistrano Mission in California a spokesman said Tuesday the swallows "returned on time as they have every day for 171 years except one time, 1935, when they were three days late."

The snows of winter are all but gone.

They were unusually heavy, for example, in southeastern North Carolina, where residents are not accustomed to such amounts. State weather researcher Albert Hardy said: "But they enjoyed it. It made them happy."

But it didn't make the Gulf Coast of Texas happy to behold during the winter a rare fall of snow and sleet. Nor was there exultation in Indianapolis, Ind., where 32 inches of snow set a modern winter record.

However, Iowa had the second lightest snowfall on record. Chicago had only 27.3 inches of snow and First Deputy Police Jonough, with 30,000 tons of salt for streets left over, said: "We loved this winter."

Southeast Utah was paralyzed with five feet of snow last December, the heaviest fall in 19 years. It was a bad winter there for sheep, cattle, ranchers and Navajo Indians, among others. The Navajos also suffered in western New Mexico in a series of December snow storms and needed help from Air Force rescue planes.

When the New Year arrived at Red Lodge, Mont., there were 59 inches of snow on the ground. But Oklahoma's worst snowstorm in a decade held off until the final week of winter.

The University of Arkansas dismissed classes for the first time this century when 18 inches of snow fell a week ago. New England traffic was snarled way back last Nov. 15 when an unusually heavy snowfall caught motorists and highway departments unprepared.

Late in December, Windsor Locks, Conn., had its heaviest single fall of snow since 1945—13.6 inches. Boonville, N.Y., east of Lake Ontario, recorded 230 inches of snow by the end of February—about 30 inches above an entire winter's normal fall.

Savannah, Ga., in the Deep South, got a record three-inch snowfall early in February. But far to the north, Milwaukee, Wis., had only about one-fourth of its annual average of 45.2 inches of snow, and merchants were stuck with quantities of snow plows, snow tires and the like.

Generally speaking, a worldwide cooling trend was evident again, with temperatures lower than normal in the United States. Indianapolis averaged 7 degrees below normal, Arkansas 11.7 degrees.

Burlington, Vt., recorded 115 hours of below-zero temperatures in early January. Pittsburgh had below-zero temperatures 10 times in January and February. Gas deliveries reached an all time high.

Miami's winter was 2 to 3 degrees below the normal 69 degree average, and February there was the coldest on record. The coldest day came March 2—37 degrees, a record for the date.

In some areas the season was one big blizzard. New Jersey state climatologist Donald Dunlap said: "It was nothing that would stick in an body's mind—there were no extremes." Similarly a Kansas City weather man called it "a very mediocre winter—nothing outstanding about it."

Cold and snowy weather marred the arrival of spring today in the Rockies and plains.

but it was generally mild—though occasionally damp—in most other sections of the country.

Snow fell from Colorado to Minnesota and temperatures tumbled into the teens all across the northern Rockies and the adjacent plains. Sheridan, Wyo., registered a wintry 12 above zero before dawn.

Thunderstorms rumbled through the night from southern Texas to Michigan and Ohio. Heavy rain soaked parts of Missouri and Arkansas, ranging up to 1 1/2 inches at Fort Smith, Ark., and 1 3/4 inches at Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Rain also caused waterlogged sections of southern New England for the fourth day in a row, but amounts were light compared with the downpours

Failure To Yield Case Tops Docket At Muny Court

Acting Municipal Court Judge Kenneth Robbins heard charges Tuesday of traffic violations filed against three local and six out-of-county motorists.

Thomas Scribner, 20, Orient, forfeited a $24 bond set on charges of failing to yield the right of way.

Larry Kaiser, 25, of 1195 Lone Pine Road, forfeited a $19 bond set on charges of speeding 70 miles in a 60 mile zone.

Warren Dunetz, 40, Laurelville, forfeited a $19 bond set on charges of speeding 70 miles in a 60 mile zone.

The court collected $166 in fines, bond forfeitures and costs from six out-of-county motorists.

Rocky Rules Out Nebraska Primary Battle with Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller—on the verge of announcing whether he'll challenge Richard M. Nixon in Oregon—has already ruled out a Nebraska contest against the former vice president.

"This is Nixon country," Rockefeller said of the Nebraska primary.

He said Tuesday he wouldn't campaign against Nixon in Nebraska's May 14 balloting even if his name goes on the ballot—and indicated he'd sidestep all primaries except Oregon's May 28 if he becomes a candidate.

Rockefeller has until Friday to announce whether he'll enter the Oregon primary as an active Republican presidential contender. Published reports say he'll enter and will make the announcement Thursday.

But the Governor, asked after a meeting with GOP senators if there were any doubts about his running, said there were.

In other political developments:

—Nixon said in Eau Claire, Wis., that the United States "cannot continue to carry the major burden of maintaining freedom around the world" and called for "new diplomats."

He said the Vietnam war must be ended on a basis that will discourage Communist aggression. —California Gov. Ronald Reagan denied a report he'd made a deal to become Rockefeller's vice presidential running mate.

"No deals," Reagan said. "I still stand on my position, I'm not interested."

Rockefeller met with some 17 of the 36 Republican senators to outline his views Tuesday and he told a news conference later he would offer no superficial remedy to the Vietnam war issue.

"I don't see how an intelligent candidate could come up with an oversimplification," he said. "I think the American people are giving prayerful support to the President, hoping he will find the right solution between now and January."

"After January," he added,

"the next president might have greater options in finding a solution."

But the Washington Post said Rockefeller has radically revised his Vietnam position since four years ago when he said "winning the fight for freedom in Vietnam is essential to the survival of all of Asia."

He has told friends privately, the newspaper said, that the war itself may be irreconcilable but a solution may be possible if it is encompassed in a wider guarantee of neutrality and security for surrounding Asian nations.

Rockefeller's more immediate problem, if he becomes a candidate, is Nixon and he accused Nixon backers of trying to force him into the Nebraska primary by getting his name on the ballot.

But he said he would not campaign in Nebraska whatever happens.

A reporter asked if Oregon's is the only primary he'd enter and he replied: "That's a fair deduction to draw."

Pesty Sawfly

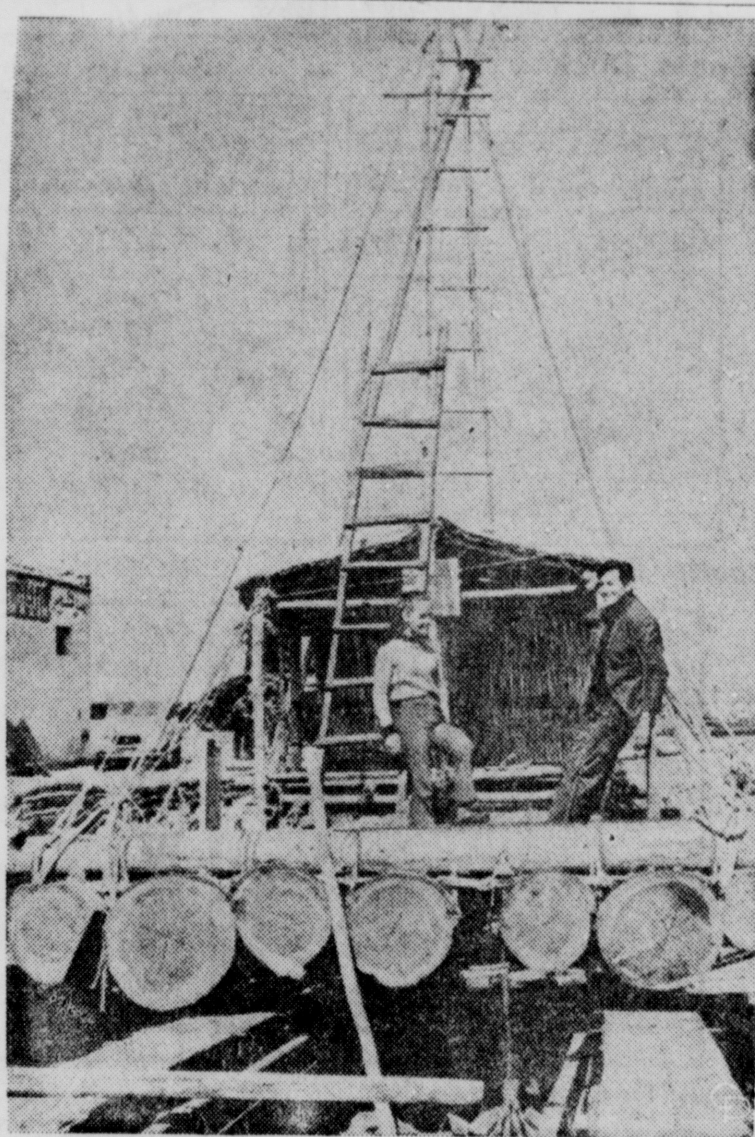

Under Attack

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The pesty sawfly may be about to be done in by the female of the species.

Researchers at the University of Wisconsin discovered a chemical which attracts male sawflies to females. They hope to take the potent material and use it to gather the males so they can be destroyed.

The chemical, produced by virgin female sawflies, is so powerful that one ten-thousandth of a microgram can interest thousands of male sawflies.

The scientists, H. C. Coppel and Fumio Matsumura of the College of Agriculture, hope to gather the chemical by blowing air over females into a system of tubes.

Negro Sheriff Charges White Cops in Probe

Complaint Filed
Following Alleged
Beating of Man

TUSKEGEE, Ala., (AP) — Alabama's only Negro sheriff has arrested a police chief and state trooper, both white, on a Negro's complaint that he was beaten following his arrest.

Sheriff Lucius Amerson of Macon County said Tuesday that he charged Notasulga Police Chief Bobby G. Singleton and state trooper James H. Bass in warrants signed by Ocie Lee Devance, a Macon County Negro.

Singleton was charged with drawing and threatening to use a dangerous weapon and Bass with assault and battery. The sheriff said both men, arrested Monday, were freed on $300 bonds for court appearance April 1.

"I will by no means permit this kind of activity to go on in Macon County," Amerson said. "It's a disgrace to have to go out and arrest other law enforcement officers on charges like this."

The sheriff gave this account: Devance was arrested Saturday night by Singleton on a charge of disorderly conduct. Devance, who is in his early 20s, was taken to Notasulga Jail, where Bass was waiting.

Devance said Bass hit him on the side of the head two or three times, knocked him to the floor and kicked him in the chest.

He told the sheriff the men later took him to the Notasulga police station, where the chief held him while Bass struck him. Devance said the men fired their pistols near his feet and head before releasing him.

Science Fair Projects Rated High

Students from Circleville Junior High School were outstanding in their presentations at the District Science Fair held at the French Field House, Columbus, on Saturday.

Out of the 29 students chosen to participate, eight received awards of "superior" and 18 received "excellent" ratings.

Receiving the superior awards with the titles of their projects are as follows: Tim Burns, St. Lawrence Seaway; June Brudzinski, Crystals; Glen Gillespie, Volcanoes; Gregory Hoskins, Brine Shrimp; Marcus Lackey, Study of Waves; Marilyn Marshall, Snell's Law; Amy Mehalick, Windmill Greenhouse; Mary Beth Rhoads, Development of a Chick.

Say Sejna Knew Military Secrets

PRAGUE (AP) — A Czechoslovak staff officer said today that Gen. Jan Sejna, who fled to the United States last month, possessed extensive knowledge of military installations in Czechoslovakia. He challenged the defense minister to tell the nation about it.

This first admission of military repercussions of the Sejna scandal came from Reserve Col. Lubo Kohout as the army's chief political officer was in Moscow for talks with top Soviet military leaders.

Spring Arrives, but March Could Still Hold Some Surprises

NEW YORK (AP) — Spring arrived today bringing with it a promise of sunshine, gentle breezes and blossoms, followed by a gradual increase in small boys climbing trees.

However, Henry Van Dyke, an American clergyman, author and teacher, warned many years ago: "The first day of spring is one thing, and the first spring day is another. The difference between them is sometimes as great as a month."

To which Dr. J. Murray Mitchell adds an amen. He is a climate change expert for the U.S. Weather Bureau in Washington. And he says March still is a dangerous month. He foresees hard freezes, at least on the East Coast. And one more substantial snowstorm wouldn't surprise him.

But the swallows are back at Capistrano and astronomically

the winter is over—a winter of varying discontent.

At the Capistrano Mission in California a spokesman said Tuesday the swallows "returned on time as they have every day for 171 years except one time, 1935, when they were three days late."

The snows of winter are all but gone.

They were unusually heavy, for example, in southeastern North Carolina, where residents are not accustomed to such amounts. State weather researcher Albert Hardy said: "But they enjoyed it. It made them happy."

But it didn't make the Gulf Coast of Texas happy to behold during this winter a rare fall of snow and sleet. Nor was there exultation in Indianapolis, Ind., where 32 inches of snow set a modern winter record.

However, Iowa had the second lightest snowfall on record. Chicago had only 27.3 inches of snow and First Deputy Police Jonough, with 30,000 tons of salt for streets left over, said: "We loved this winter."

Southeast Utah was paralyzed with five feet of snow last December, the heaviest fall in 19 years. It was a bad winter there for sheep, cattle, ranchers and Navajo Indians, among others. The Navajos also suffered in western New Mexico in a series of December snow storms and needed help from Air Force rescue planes.

When the New Year arrived at Red Lodge, Mont., there were 59 inches of snow on the ground. But Oklahoma's worst snowstorm in a decade held off until the final week of winter.

The University of Arkansas dismissed classes for the first time this century when 18 inches of snow fell a week ago. New England traffic was snarled way back last Nov. 15 when an unusually heavy snowfall caught motorists and highway departments unprepared.

Late in December, Windsor Locks, Conn., had its heaviest single fall of snow since 1945—13.6 inches. Boonville, N.Y., east of Lake Ontario, recorded 230 inches of snow by the end of February—about 30 inches above an entire winter's normal fall.

Savannah, Ga., in the Deep South, got a record three-inch snowfall early in February. But far to the north, Milwaukee, Wis., had only about one-fourth of its annual average of 45.8 inches of snow, and merchants were stuck with quantities of snow plows, snow tires and the like.

Generally speaking, a worldwide cooling trend was evident again, with temperatures lower than normal in the United States. Indianapolis averaged 7 degrees below normal, Arkansas 11.7 degrees.

Burlington, Vt., recorded 115 hours of below-zero temperatures in early January. Pittsburgh had below-zero temperatures 10 times in January and February. Gas deliveries reached an all time high.

Miami's winter was 2 to 3 degrees below the normal 63 degree average, and February there was the coldest on record. The coldest day came March 2—37 degrees, a record for the date.

In some areas the season was one big blizzard. New Jersey state climatologist Donald Dunlap said: "It was nothing that would stick in an body's mind—there were no extremes." Similarly a Kansas City weather man called it "a very mediocre winter—nothing outstanding about it."

Cold and snowy weather marred the arrival of spring today in the Rockies and plains, but it was generally mild—though occasionally damp—in most other sections of the country.

Snow fell from Colorado to Minnesota and temperatures tumbled into the teens all across the northern Rockies and the adjacent plains. Sheridan, Wyo., registered a wintry 12 above zero before dawn.

Thunderstorms rumbled through the night from southern Texas to Michigan and Ohio. Heavy rain soaked parts of Missouri and Arkansas, ranging up to 1 1/2 inches at Fort Smith, Ark., and 1 3/4 inches at Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Rain also water-logged sections of southern New England for the fourth day in a row, but an. were light compared with one downpours

Failure To Yield Case Tops Docket At Muny Court

Acting Municipal Court Judge Kenneth Robbins heard charges Tuesday of traffic violations filed against three local and six out-of-county motorists.

Thomas Scribner, 20, Orient, forfeited a $24 bond set on charges of failing to yield the right of way.

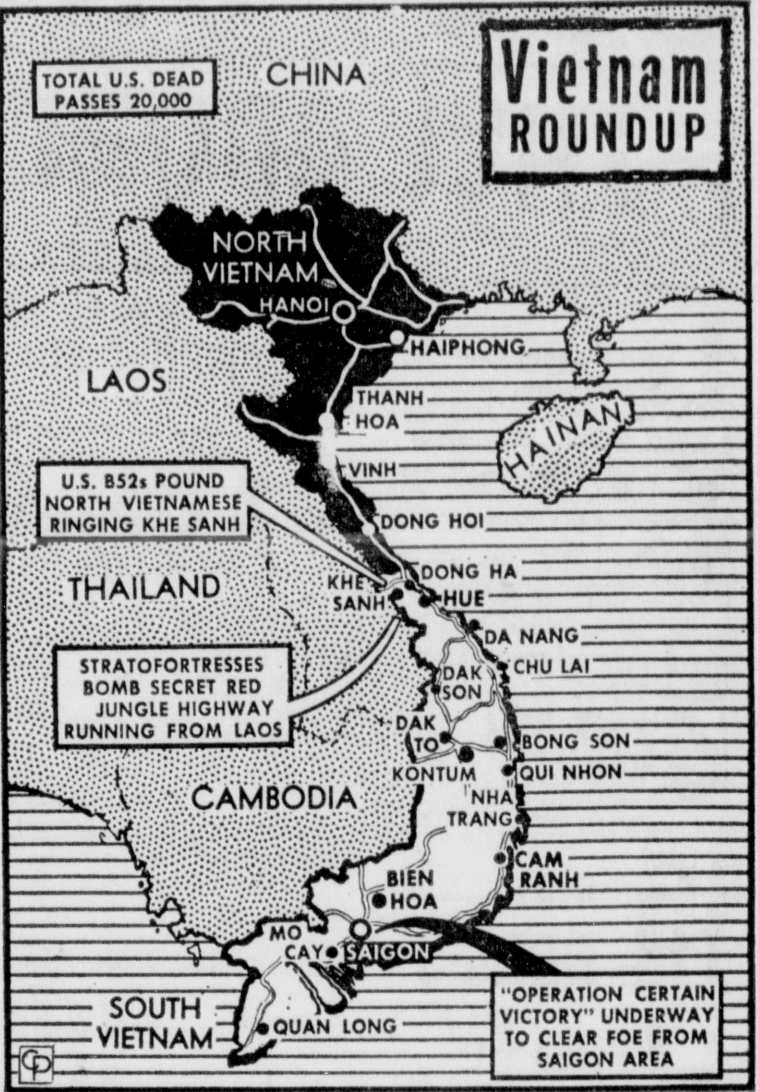

Larry Kaiser, 25, of 1195 Lone Pine Road, forfeited a $19 bond set on charges of speeding 70 miles in a 60 mile zone.

Warren Dunetz, 40, Laurelville, forfeited a $19 bond set on charges of speeding 70 miles in a 60 mile zone.

The court collected $166 in fines, bond forfeitures and costs from six out-of-county motorists.

Rocky Rules Out Nebraska Primary Battle with Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller—on the verge of announcing whether he'll challenge Richard M. Nixon in Oregon—has already ruled out a Nebraska contest against the former vice president.

"This is Nixon country," Rockefeller said of the Nebraska primary.

He said Tuesday he wouldn't campaign against Nixon in Nebraska's May 14 balloting even if his name goes on the ballot—and indicated he'd sidestep all primaries except Oregon's May 28 if he becomes a candidate.

Rockefeller has until Friday to announce whether he'll enter the Oregon primary as an active Republican presidential contender. Published reports say he'll enter and will make the announcement Thursday.

But the Governor, asked after a meeting with GOP senators if there were any doubts about his running, said there were.

In other political developments:

—Nixon said in Eau Claire, Wis., that the United States "cannot continue to carry the major burden of maintaining freedom around the world" and called for "new diplomacies." He said the Vietnam war must be ended on a basis that will discourage Communist aggression.

—California Gov. Ronald Reagan denied a report he'd made a deal to become Rockefeller's vice presidential running mate. "No deals," Reagan said. "I still stand on my position, I'm not interested."

Rockefeller met with some 17 of the 36 Republican senators to outline his views Tuesday and he told a news conference later he would offer no superficial remedy to the Vietnam war issue.

"I don't see how an intelligent candidate could come up with an oversimplification," he said. "I think the American people are giving prayerful support to the President, hoping he will find the right solution between now and January."

"After January," he added,

"the next president might have greater options in finding a solution."

But the Washington Post said Rockefeller has radically revised his Vietnam position since four years ago when he said "winning the fight for freedom in Vietnam is essential to the survival of all of Asia."

He has told friends privately, the newspaper said, that the war itself may be irreconcilable but a solution may be possible if it is encompassed in a wider guarantee of neutrality and security for surrounding Asian nations.

Rockefeller's more immediate problem, if he becomes a candidate, is Nixon and he accused Nixon backers of trying to force him into the Nebraska primary by getting his name on the ballot.

But he said he would not campaign in Nebraska whatever happens.

A reporter asked if Oregon's is the only primary he'd enter and he replied: "That's a fair deduction to draw."

Pesty Sawfly Under Attack

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The pesty sawfly may be about to be done in by the female of the species.

Researchers at the University of Wisconsin discovered a chemical which attracts male sawflies to females. They hope to take the potent material and use it to gather the males so they can be destroyed.

The chemical, produced by virgin female sawflies, is so powerful that one ten-thousandth of a microgram can interest thousands of male sawflies.

The scientists, H. C. Coppel and Fumio Matsumura of the College of Agriculture, hope to gather the chemical by blowing air over females into a system of tubes.
